COLLEGE STUDENTS OBSERVE DITCH DAY

This is "ditch day," a tradition of the local college. Although an effort was made to keep plans secret, it was rumored that several faculty members were cognizant of the plot, to cut classes.

The school halls were left deserted. Assembly program arranged for this afternoon was postponed. Even the teachers, freed from holding classes, hastily made plans for the day. Some went to Los Angeles.

Laguna was invaded by practically the entire college student body as the place deliriously upon for celebrating the day. Cars of students left Birch park early in the morning. It was planned to make the affair an all-day outing.

ORANGE BANKS IN MERGER: 4 ARE AFFECTED

ORANGE, May 27.—Consolidation of the National Bank of Orange and the First National Bank of Orange, and merger of the Security Savings bank, which is affiliated with the First National Bank of Orange, with the Orange Savings bank, an affiliation of the National Bank of Orange were announced today by officers of the respective institutions here.

J. R. Porter, cashier of the National Bank of Orange, stated that plans for the consolidations had been launched two months ago and that consent and approval of the stockholders of the institutions involved had just been secured.

Porter said the present capitalization of the banks was: National Bank of Orange, $150,000; First National bank, $100,000; Orange Savings bank, $50,000; Security Savings bank, $50,000.

The savings bank will take the name of Orange Savings bank and will be located in the building now occupied by the First National bank and the consolidated national banks will be organized under the name of First National Bank of Orange, with a combined capital of $300,000 and a surplus of $100,000, officers said.

The approval of the state banking commissioner for the mergers is expected in time to allow the deal to take effect July 1, according to Walter Kogler, cashier of the First National bank. Under the new plan of operation, the banks will be in a position to advance more money on loans to finance the rapid development of Orange, the primary purpose of the move, according to Kogler.

The new savings bank will also do a commercial business and the new national bank will maintain a savings department, he added. No change in officers has been made as yet, it being explained by Kogler that the First National Bank of Orange had received permission to increase its directorate to include all the directors of the National Bank of Orange.

A new board of directors to serve the First National Bank of Orange will be elected at the next annual meeting of the institution, it was said.

TENANTS OF IRVINE RANCH HOLD PICNIC

Tenants of the Irvine ranch held their annual picnic last night at Orange County park, with approximately 125 men, women and children present.

The annual meeting of the tenants has increased in interest and attendance each year, and prediction was made last night that, upon recurrence next year, the affair would be attended by greater numbers than were present last night.

A barbecued steak dinner was one of the features. Preparation of the steaks and arrangements for the outing were in the hands of Walter Cook, Dick Horton and Oscar Staples. The task of barbecuing steaks for 125 persons was accomplished quickly and the meat was served piping hot.

Closer relationship among men who till the soil on the big ranch was engendered by the affair, and declarations were made that the annual gatherings have been instrumental in bringing about closer cooperation in the solving of problems of the tenants.

No special entertainment was provided for the group, but those who enjoyed dancing joined in the Round Table club dance at the pavilion.

Grove Man Loses Life Attempting To Save 2 Boys

R. G. Sweeney, oil worker, who removed from Garden Grove three weeks ago to Sutter county, lost his life while attempting to save his two nephews from drowning in the Sutter river Monday, according to word received by Orange county relatives, today.

Mrs. H. Miller, mother of Sweeney, lives at 314 South Melrose avenue, Anaheim. A brother, Lawrence Sweeney, attends Anaheim high school.

It was expected that the body would be brought to Orange county for interment. Besides Mrs. Sweeney, five children, three boys and two girls, the oldest of whom is 14 years of age, survive.

DAIRY EMPLOYEES ENJOY BARBECUE

Exemplifying the spirit of cooperation existing in the Raitt Sanitary Dairy company, a co-operative organization, the company last night entertained 125 men, women and children at the county park with a barbecue dinner. The guests were employees, who also own stock, the officers and the owners of dairy herds and their families.

J. T. Raitt, head of the company, directed the affair, and was assisted by his son, Archie Raitt, and wife, and daughter, Mrs. H. W. Woodward and her husband.

Mr. Raitt sr., placed the meat and beans in the pit at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and when the dinner was served at 8:30 p.m., the viands were cooked to a turn. Eighty pounds of meat, so tender that it fell to pieces when taken from wrappers, and ten gallons of beans were consumed by the diners.

The affair was a pleasing courtesy to the group and was enjoyed to the full by the members of the organization and special guests.

"Milk supplied in this community by the Raitt Sanitary Dairy is produced by herds owned by members of the company," said J. T. Raitt. "Every herd owner is directly and personally interested in the success of the company, and this fact is reflected in the high grade milk served by our organization. To serve the best product possible and with an unsurpassed service, is the ambition of every individual associated with the production and distribution, for each one participates in the earnings."

The price of dog tags for 1926 will be the same as in previous years, $2 for males and $3 for females.

Licenses can now be secured from the city clerk, and all should be obtained before June 1.

Van Bibber confessed to the murder of Joseph Rosenblum, Los Angeles man.

Following his arrest in Santa Ana, Van Bibber was released, after spending several days in jail. His associates in the robbery of the service station were given penitentiary sentences. Both Cameron and Morris were witnesses at Van Bibber's murder trial.

O'Neill Suffering From Breakdown

The WELL-DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

THE WELL-CAPPED MAN
Styles appear, disappear, and reappear like the sequence of the seasons, but the cap is peerless and, one might add, disappears. Not the soft-brimmed straw hat nor the two-toned feather weight felt hat, nor the field helmet, nor even headwear of cool duck, drill and flannel have succeeded in dislodging the good old cap from the favor of the gentleman-sportsman. To be sure, the chief advantage of the cap is that it sticks fast in a spanking wind. Moreover, it is little harmed by a wetting. Aside from these merits, however, the cap has snuggles, trimness and compactness which commend it to many wearers as their favorite for sport, country, travel and knockabout. It is readily carried in one's bag and even stuffed into the pocket. It is not as picturesque as some other types of hats, but it is far more practical. Finally, it withstands rough-and-tumble use.

Ventilated caps are not new. They have been worn during the last five years by fresh-air enthusiasts who claim that a circulating current within the cap renders it cooled and more healthful. This point is important or unimportant according to personal opinion. The same thing is true of the adjustable cap, that is, the model which may be loosened or tightened at the whim of the wearer by means of buckles, buttons or snap fasteners which allow expansion or contraction. To illustrate, if you are driving an open automobile or playing golf on a breezy day you would, perhaps, want to wear your cap more snugly than if you were lounging about a country club.

Just how one sort of ventilated cap looks is portrayed in the accompanying sketch. The perforations or eyelets are distributed throughout the piece of crown. Other caps are aired through ventilators under the visor or through an air-space between the visor and the crown. The particular process employed is of no consequence. One is typical of all.

The exaggeratedly broad-crown, long peak cap, in vogue up to last year, has been replaced with the smaller crown and the shorter visor. This style is more becoming to most men. Materials, patterns and colors in sporting caps follow those of golf suits—solid colors, and colors in sporting caps follow those of golf suits—solid colors, blue-grays, fawns, lavenders, cocoa browns and so on. With your gray cap wear black shoes. With your brown cap wear brown shoes. With white, black-and-white or brown-and-white shoes wear a white or tan linen or crash cap.

STATE PAROLE CHIEF PLEADS FOR CONVICTS

Speaking before the City club in Anaheim yesterday, R. E. Langworthy, state parole officer for Southern California, made a stirring appeal in behalf of those who have sinned against society.

He was introduced by George Varnum as "Padre of the Miserable Ones," and as a man who has devoted his time for 11 years to the protection of society, and to those whom society has penalized for their acts.

Langworthy spoke with a force that carried conviction. From an experience drawn from the work he does with never less, and usually far more than 100 paroled convicts, he declared that the parole system and the indeterminate sentence law are society's most advanced steps.

He bitterly assailed the legislative indifference to the needs of prison inmates, and pointed out that, with the rapidly growing population of the state and the corresponding increase in number of convicts, the lack of humanitarian accommodations would be little less than criminal.

Langworthy outlined a constructive program as an outgrowth of his observation of the needs of his wards. It calls for 10 separate outdoor productive prisons, where different classes can be segregated and given a chance for redemption; where a large proportion of them can be made absolutely self-supporting, and where economy and reform will take the place of vengeance and indolent dependence.

Langworthy told how young boys have asked if they may call him "Dad," and how strong men look to him for guidance.

Prison figures quoted by the speaker show that about one-third of the convicts are on parole, and that they have earned $9,600,000 and saved from such earnings $2,600,000.

ALLEGES FRAUD IN OIL LEASE DEAL

Charges by Dwight P. Goodrich, agent for a telegraph company at Orange, that his note for $5000, given for an interest in an oil lease, was obtained through fraud, were offered today in defense to a suit brought against him by the Farmers bank of Camarillo, purchaser of the note.

The bank sued for $3300, representing an unpaid portion of the note. Superior Judge R. Y. Williams presided over the trial, which started at 10 a. m.

The Goodrich note was part of a $30,000 note raised by Orange citizens to purchase an interest in the lease. They were said to have delivered the notes and securities involved to B. R. Parrott, of the Pacific corporation. According to testimony given in court today by G. G. Beckman, W. B. Lamp and other defense witnesses, who were also concerned in the transaction, there was an agreement that the notes so delivered to Parrott were not to be transferred or used in any way until the lease they applied upon was delivered to the purchasers.

The witnesses claimed that the lease was never delivered. It was said, however, that after the notes passed out of Parrott's hands, they were sold to various purchasers, with the result that several large actions are now pending or have already been settled in the courts here, based on the same transaction. One such action has been decided in favor of the defendant, A. W. Leitch, who was not required to pay his note.

Attorneys James L. Allen and James L. Davis, of Santa Ana, represent Goodrich in the case on trial today.

W. Taylor, of 418 West Santa Clara, says: "Had the best week of fishing last week I ever had. Limits of trout on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and another limit this morning. They are sure striking fine."

Prof. H. J. Quail, entomologist with the University of California, was in Orange today on a periodic inspection of walnut trees. He was accompanied through groves by A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner. Professor Quail is particularly eager to determine if the walnut trees are being damaged by codling moth.

Fred Newcomb, Jr., of Newcomb's Shoe store, 111 West Fourth street, today was elected a director of the California Retail Dealers' association at its closing session held at Santa Barbara today.

Word of Newcomb's election day, received in Santa Ana this morning.

An all-day meeting of Federation No. 1, W. R. C., will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall, Orange, Monday, starting at 10 o'clock. The morning session will be given over to business, with a program over the afternoon. The federation comprises the corps of Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton, Huntington Beach, Orange and Whittier.

Paid Fancy Prices

"I paid an international authority on diseases of the stomach $1500 and he didn't do me five cents' worth of good. I have been to various spas in Europe, as well as this country and have spent fully $30,000 fruitlessly in search of a cure for my stomach trouble. Naturally I lost faith in any remedy for my case. My wife's brother had taken Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and praised it so highly that I tried it and am now entirely rid of that trouble." It is a simple, harmless preparation that moves the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

SOCIETY

Much Business Arises For Ebell Members

A variety of business matters occupied the attention of Ebell society members at an interesting meeting held Monday afternoon at the clubhouse, presided over by Mrs. S. W. Stanley acting president during Mrs. T. E. Stephenson's continued absence.

Reports of recent meetings and the state convention were of keen interest to all present. Mrs. C. T. Wells related outstanding details of two delightful reciprocity luncheons, the first held at Placentia where the Round Table club was hostess club, the second at Pomona with Pomona Ebell greeting guests from neighboring clubs.

Events of importance at the convention of the California Federation of Women's clubs held last week at Santa Cruz, were told graphically by Mrs. C. F. Crose who represented Ebell. The reports were followed by a reading of the proposed revision of the by-laws in which Mrs. S. M. Davis called attention to the various changes. Members were asked to study each revision carefully and be prepared to talk informally on the subject at the friendly meeting on the second Monday in June when the board of directors will present their usual June program.

Informality will distinguish the day and it is hoped that the spirit of freedom will be so strong that everyone will frankly express ideas regarding the proposed changes in order that the general opinion may find expression when the matter arises for ultimate decision.

Entertainment was offered by Miss Nancy Elder, Y. W. C. A. secretary who told of her work with the Girl Reserves, illustrating by presenting a group led by Miss Elizabeth Brunner. The young people gave an interesting song group as well as a demonstration of other work.

This was followed by a most interesting talk on the development of electrical power through the Southern California Edison company's activities in the High Sierras. This was presented by Walter G. Blossom, a speaker who was as entertaining as he was fully informed on every phase of his subject. The talk was illustrated by several reels of pictures which offered visions of the beauty of the mountains as well as the prowess of man. Mr. Blossom's enlightening talk and the pictures were made possible through the courtesy of William L. Deimling of the Southern California Edison company.

Announcement of events to come completed a pleasant afternoon. Such announcements included that of the big benefit card party to be held tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock at the clubhouse, and also the reciprocity luncheon for Monday, June 1 when officers of the county federation will be honored.

The card party is open to everybody, whether members of Ebell or not, but reservations should be made beforehand. The luncheon will be open to Ebell members but since only a limited number may be accommodated, those planning to attend are asked to make reservations at once. An interesting afternoon in the auditorium will be open to the public.

Birthday Party For Young Girl
For Saturday, May 23, the fifteenth birthday anniversary of Miss May St. John, her mother, Mrs. Harold St. John, arranged a surprise by inviting a party of fifteen young school friends of Miss May to help celebrate the occasion at her home, 2663 North Main street. The colors and flowers so suggestive, pink and white sweet peas, were used in profusion throughout the house, creating a fragrant and beautiful setting for the happy group of young people.

At the refreshment hour, from a large pink and white rose of crepe paper, streamers of ribbon terminated in pretty favors. A birthday cake with pink and white layers, pink frosting and fifteen glowing candles added to the effect, and among other delicacies served were pink and white ice cream and punch.

Card games and other diversions filled the evening with enjoyment. Miss Lois Baker assisted Mrs. St. John in the pleasant duties of hostess. The young honoree received numerous and appropriate gifts, including a lovely wrist watch from her grandmother, Mrs. Judson, and from her parents, a string of pearls.

Business Women's Club
While members of the Business and Professional Women's club were keenly disappointed that illness prevented Miss Ruth Oakes from presenting the harp program promised for their recent luncheon at St. Ann's Inn, their disappointment was lightened by the promise that Miss Oakes would appear at a nearby future date.

In the breach thus left by the non-appearance of the artist, an obliging non-member, Miss Opal Davis, present as the guest of Miss Lena Thomas, very graciously entertained the club with an account of a recent trip to Honolulu. Especially thrilling was her account of the convoy of seven gleaming, gliding airplanes which escorted the vessel out of the harbor upon her return trip. The presence of the fleet in the islands for the war maneuvers during her stay, made it especially interesting and while her talk was brief, Miss Davis quite transmitted that interest to her listeners.

Other guests present in addition to Miss Davis were Miss Maxine Wilson, Miss House and Miss Hattie Bell Walls. Miss

Grandy was welcomed to membership.

Miss Martha Whitson, the president, named the June program committee, choosing Miss Ruth Ellis as chairman to be assisted by Miss Mary Hilyard, Mrs. Ruth Taylor Scudder and Miss Flora Pritchard.

Franklin

Franklin P. T. A. held its final meeting for the school year last week when a program of songs and recitations by kindergarten children, was presented under the direction of Miss Kathryn Brooks. A report by the nominating committee resulted in the re-election of Mrs. J. H. Stewart, capable president during the year just ended and the following officers:

Mrs. Edward Newman, vice-president; Miss Hazel McFarland, secretary; Octavia Goldsworthy, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. G. Best, auditor; Mrs. J. Hey, treasurer; Mrs. Melvin Moore, parliamentarian.

The Franklin P. T. A. now numbers 140 members. Notable accomplishments of the association for the year have resulted in many new members and with new equipment, the association anticipates a busy season when school convenes next fall. Improvements in the school effected by the organization have included new records for the Victrola, a school picture and new curtains at kindergarten windows. A picture of Benjamin Franklin was awarded to Miss McFarland's room for the following month and to sixth grade room for next year as they had the best record for number of mothers attending P. T. A. meetings for the year. Another gift to the school was a picture of "Betsy Ross and the American Flag" presented by Floyd and Eugene Best.

Following the business session, members lingered for a social chat over ice cream and wafers served by Mrs. E. G. Best, chairman of the entertainment committee and her aides, Mesdames Hendricks, Newman, Sturdivant, Smith, Ladd, W. J. Anderson, Rimmell, Moore, Kroch, Heinley and Jenkins.

The final meeting for the year of Roosevelt P. T. A. will be held in the kindergarten room Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Silver Candlesticks Form Class Gift to Departing Member

When Mrs. Edward Franzen, a recent bride of the Philathea class of the First M. E. Sunday school, opened her pretty country home on Tustin avenue Monday night, it was to give her classmates the opportunity of bidding reluctant farewell to one of their number, Miss Pauline Smith, who will leave soon to rejoin her father, a prominent physician of Winthrop, New York.

Miss Smith has been a valued member of the Frances Willard junior high school faculty and only resigns her position to take up a more interesting course of applied domestic science in which she will gain the M. R. S. degree, according to her confession to her Philathea classmates. The happy man is, like her father, a physician who will receive his degree in June from an eastern medical college.

Mrs. Franzen who was formerly Miss Stella Anderson, had as her co-hostesses, a group of young matrons of the class, Mrs. O. G. James, Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. Northrop. They had arranged for a merry evening of progressive ruck in which Miss Smith carried off honors to be rewarded with a prettily framed arrangement of the well-known poem, "Out Where the West Begins," an appropriate gift for one who regrets saying adieu to the Golden West. Miss Lillian Fitz was presented a dainty porcelain flower bowl as consolation.

At the refreshment hour the tables, adorned with snowy linens, were centered with low baskets of flowers, each table in a different color. Nut cups and other pretty appointments harmonized and a menu of avocado salad, wafers, orange ice, angel food cake and coffee was served.

At the close of the supper hour, the hostesses produced the class gift to the departing member, a pair of handsome silver candlesticks which are expected to shed a soft glow on intimate little homey dinners.

Enjoying the happy evening with four hostesses, Mesdames Franzen, James, Smith and Northrop were the honor guest, Miss Pauline Smith, the class teacher, Mrs. J. W. McCormac, the Misses Floy Allen, Wilma Jamieson, Florence Leonard, Lydia Fisher, Andrea Fey, Nellie Irvine, Frances Stockbrand, Dorothy Hurd, Irene Blower, Mayne Denison, Grace Denison, Ethel Coffman, May Beamer, Margaret Marsh, Gertrude Stoneman, Mrs. Francis Weinrich and a group of guests including Mrs. Cecil Birtcher, Miss Cleo Bowers and Miss Claudia Seavers.

ROBERTSON HOME OPENED IN COMPLIMENT TO BRIDE

Mr. and Mrs. Orlyn Nelson Robertson whose wedding was a smart event at Bridges hall, Pomona college, Claremont, Saturday afternoon, April 25. Mrs. Robertson was Miss Mary Elizabeth Cram, daughter of the Frank L. Crams of Highlands. They are now at home to their friends at 111 Owens Drive, Santa Ana.

Nearly 200 guests took the opportunity to offer a friendly greeting to a bride—a newcomer to Santa Ana when on Sunday afternoon, Mrs. J. G. Robertson of 2680 North Main street, sponsored a smart "At Home" to introduce her new daughter-in-law, the charming bride of her son, Orlyn Nelson Robertson.

The marriage of Mr. Robertson and Miss Mary Elizabeth Cram was one of the outstanding events of the spring in college circles, the ceremony being held at Bridges hall, Claremont, sacred to the alumni of Pomona college. Following a honeymoon which took the young people to the Grand Canyon and other points of interest, Mr. Robertson brought his bride to the new home awaiting her at 111 Owens Drive.

At the cleverly arranged function of Sunday, guests were given the opportunity not only of greeting the newcomer, but of being allowed a survey of the lovely Owens Drive home and the rich assortment of bridal gifts which adorn it.

Mrs. Robertson sr. in black beaded Canton crepe, with her son and new daughter and her niece, Miss Mattie Robertson of Anaheim and Mr. Dalvin Maxwell of Long Beach, formed the formal receiving line. Young Mrs. Orlyn Robertson wore one of her troussseau frocks, a lovely thing of green georgette and ecru lace. Miss Robertson wore an airy frock of yellow flowered georgette over sunset taffeta.

At intervals Mr. and Mrs. Orlyn Robertson deserted the receiving line and acted as escort for line and guests, taking them to groups of the new home where they were greeted by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Cram of Highlands. Mrs. Cram wore pearl gray georgette elaborately beaded. Returning to the scene of the party, guests were ushered to the dining-room where Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wilson were in charge. Mrs. Wilson gown in bisque georgette, presiding gracefully at the silver coffee urn. The table was adorned with a great basket of pastel-tinted sweet peas. Guests were seated for the enjoyment of ices, wafers, coffee and tea, served on trays by Miss Jeanne Wilson in a girlish frock of beaded georgette in sunset tints, and Fred Robertson, son of the home. Mrs. Clara Otto in handsome black Canton crepe, an aunt of the hostess, assisted in introductions in the drawing-room. The three large rooms on suite were lavishly decorated with baskets and jardiniere of salmon carnations, bachelor buttons and bells of Scotland. At the new Orlyn Robertson home, tall baskets of bells of Scotland shared honors with two huge clusters of pink and cream gladioli sent by the Daughters of Veterans. Lavender Transvaal daisies graced the library table and in the dining-room amidst the array of beautiful wedding gifts displayed on the table was one perfect rose in a tall silver vase. Even the bed-chambers of the home were brilliant with crystal baskets filled with pansies and Cecil Brunner buds.

While older friends were enjoying the hospitality of the two homes and offering greetings to the honored guests, small Miss Nina June Robertson was entertaining many happy youngsters in the garden. Mr. and Mrs. Cram have now returned to their Highland home after a pleasant weekend in this city.

Pro Bono Members Are Pleasantly Greeted In New Home

The beautiful new home at 1101 West Washington avenue of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith was thrown open in friendly hospitality to members of the Pro Bono class of the United Presbyterian church last night when a merry evening was enjoyed by hosts and guests. Bowls and baskets of carnations, delphiniums and Japanese lilac were used in rich profusion and the flower idea was stressed in a charming rendering of the song, "A Garland of Old-Fashioned Roses" by Mrs. Cope, to the piano accompaniment of Mrs. William Breckenridge. Mrs. Cope gave "Come Away" as an encore number. Adding to the entertainment was a cleverly burlesqued "Ode to California" read by Mr. Smith, the host, and the high light of the evening came with the popular conception of an Englishman even to the monocle, Mr. Smith kept his audience in gales of laughter. For an encore number, he gave Edmund Vance Cooke's "Life".

A series of lively games and refreshments of strawberries, ice cream and cake, completed a happy evening for the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Smith who were Messrs. and Mesdames Cope, Eckles, L. A. Galloway, Amos N. Cox, A. J. Smiley, Fred Miller, L. T. Warren, C. G. Randall, C. T. Elisele, A. R. Wylie, William Breckenridge, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Y. M. C. A. Notes

An important meeting of the executive board of the women's department of the Y. M. C. A. has been called for tomorrow evening, May 28, at 7:30 o'clock when members will meet at the Y.

Double Celebration For Birthday and Wedding Day

When Mrs. M. Faccou responded to the suggestion of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Schultz, that she spend the day at the Schultz home on Eastwood avenue, she little suspected that she was to be the surprised honoree at a succession of two delightful parties. But Mrs. Schultz had planned that the afternoon interval was to be made happy indeed by old friends gathered to celebrate Mrs. Faccou's birthday anniversary and guests responded with alacrity. Flowers, happy wishes and many lovely gifts were showered on the surprised honoree and a pleasant afternoon of chat and needlework was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Faccou joined his wife for dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Schultz and in a restful after-dinner interval, just as the two were beginning to think of returning to their own home, they were amazed to see the afternoon guests returning accompanied by their husbands—all assembled to celebrate the fortieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Faccou.

No surprise could have been more complete, and no evening could have been pleasanter. For Mrs. Schultz had card tables ready to place in position for whist, and attractive prizes in pink and white wrappings, ready to bestow on skilled players. These proved to be S. F. Sorensen and M. Nissen who quite carried honors away from their feminine opponents.

Added entertainment was in the form of music and Miss Julia Nissen played several enjoyable piano solos. Toward the close of the evening Mrs. Schultz centered her tables with pink blossoms and served appetizing refreshments in two courses, featuring a beautifully decorated wedding cake in honor of the wedding day of 40 years ago.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Schultz and the surprise on Mr. and Mrs. Faccou were Messrs. and Mesdames W. F. Sorensen, H. Faccou, M. Nissen, A. M. Faccou, S. F. Sorensen, H. P. Lykke, Paul Anderson, Mrs. J. Peterson and the Misses Julia and Laura Nissen.

PROBLEMS OF CITIZENSHIP ARE DISCUSSED BY SENATOR KING AT ROTARY GATHERING

Two problems that face citizens of California, and therefore face citizens of Santa Ana, met the concentrated efforts of Lyman M. King, editor of the Redlands Facts, former state senator, in an able address yesterday before the Santa Ana Rotary club.

One of these problems pointed out the senator, is the problem of illiteracy with especial reference to Mexicans and their children, and the other is the problem of law enforcement, with especial reference to the eighteenth amendment and the constitution of the United States as a whole.

Senator King's address was a part of a citizenship program put on by the public affairs committee of the Santa Ana club, with W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National bank, in charge. Preceding Senator King's address on "Citizenship Problems," came a four-minute address by Miss Justina Palmer, high school sophomore, on "The Ideal American." Speaking in a clear and charming manner, with a delightful sincerity, Miss Palmer talked her way into the hearty applause of her hearers.

Debt of Service. In opening his address Senator King declared that every man owes his community a debt of service in addition to the duty that is his as a citizen to take an interest in public affairs.

Referring to statistics showing that about five per cent of the residents of the country are unable to read or write, King brought his discussion close to home.

"I don't know what proportion of the residents of Santa Ana are Mexicans," said he, "but I do know that every Southern California city has an increasing population of Mexicans. San Bernardino city alone has 5,000 to 7,000 of them. And remember this. When you see these little Mexican children, born in this country, remember that when they become of age they will be entitled to the ballot, and it is a service that citizens of today owe to the citizen of tomorrow that these children are given the best possible attention looking to their training into citizenship."

Approaching his discussion of crime, King quoted statistics showing the prevalence of certain crimes in this country as compared with Canada and Great Britain.

"There is something that makes this difference," said he. "It is your job and mine to find out the reason for this difference, and to bring into American daily life and American institutions and ways of doing things the spirit and the regulation that may be necessary to lift us out of this situation."

"Our first duty as individuals is to maintain a proper attitude toward law, to train ourselves into observance of law. The man who sneers at the Eighteenth amendment and who violates it in the presence of his children should realize that he, himself, right then and there is teaching crime to his children."

Solos by Robert Brown were a feature of yesterday's program. It was announced that June 3 had been set for ladies' day at Rotary. On that day, Rotarians are to have their wives at Rotary as guests. Earl S. Morrow will be in charge of the program.

CONSIDER BUST WASTEFUL
HANOVER, Germany, May 27.—The city council of President von Hindenburg's home town voted $1000 for a bust of him, while Socialists opposed the measure as wasteful.

Tennessee Town Not Excited By Evolution Case

DAYTON, Tenn., May 27.—This pretty little town, which early in July becomes the battle ground in the ages-old conflict between religion and science, went ahead picking strawberries today, apparently unconcerned that the eyes of the nation are upon it.

The natives paused long enough in their labors in the strawberry patches to verify the report that John T. Scopes, Dayton school teacher, was indicted for teaching evolution contrary to the state law, and then went back to work.

John Rose, foreman of the grand jury which indicted Scopes, stopped picking berries for a moment, while he gave a few opinions in regard to evolution and religion. Rose, 71, has for 30 years been superintendent of a Methodist Sunday school.

"This hell-fire and brimstone stuff is all hosh. I tell my Sunday school class so," said Rose. "Not half of the preachers who rant about the lake of fire believe it themselves. They preach about it because it's their bread and butter."

SAILOR DROWNS AT SEA
LAHAINA, T. H., May 27.—Search was still on today for the body of W. T. Honeycutt, of Honolulu, sailor of the submarine fleet, who lost his life Sunday when swept out to sea by a huge undertow. A board of investigation has been called.

EARLY HISTORY OF COUNTY IS LECTURE TOPIC

With pictures illustrating his talk, Attorney Arthur M. Ellis, Los Angeles, at the Ebell clubhouse last evening, took his hearers down through the history of Southern California, touching here and there upon events pertaining to spots in Orange county. The lecture and the pictures proved intensely interesting to the members of the Orange County Historical society and to others who attended.

Ellis showed pictures touching upon the primitive life led by the Indians of this section. Something of the days of the dons was brought out through pictures of Spanish and Mexican haciendas. Many pictures taken of Los Angeles in the '70's and '80's were shown, one picture going back in the '50's.

Several old-time street scenes in Santa Ana, a picture of Anaheim Landing showing the old warehouses and the wharf, when the landing was used for commercial shipping, a picture showing the buildings on the flat at the old McFadden landing in Newport bay, the ruins of the Coyote ranch-house at Buena Park, a picture showing the raising of the steeple on the first United Presbyterian church of Santa Ana—these were among Orange county scenes.

Ellis presented the lantern slides pertaining to this county to the society, with the hope that it might be the nucleus of a collection of old-time pictures of historic interest.

Tells of Mexican Surplus, Progress

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—Mexico is steadily rehabilitating itself after its many years of civil war, and there is now a surplus of 40,000,000 pesos in the treasury, according to Dr. I. M. Puig-Causaranc, minister of public instruction.

APPOINT COMMITTEE TO SEE AUTHORITIES

Santa Ana Attorney Deplores Juvenile Delinquency; Need For Uplift

Following declarations by members that the Pacific Electric Railway company should be reminded frequently that it should install a warning signal at the Seventeenth street crossing of the line to Los Angeles, where three persons were killed and three seriously hurt, recently, the Exchange club at its meeting yesterday, authorized the appointment of a committee to immediately get in touch with the railway company, the highway commission, the railroad commission and the board of supervisors, and urge early installation of a wig-wag, and elimination of dangerous conditions at the crossing.

E. H. Boden was named chairman of the committee, and he today initiated active steps to carry out instructions of the club.

Discussing the subject, Mel Trickey pointed out that, since completion of pavement on West Seventeenth street to Westmeyer, the street was carrying the greater portion of automobile traffic between Santa Ana and the west portion of the county and communities to the west.

"Many of the travelers are tourists unfamiliar with the dangers of the crossing and no time should be lost in placing a warning device at the crossing," Trickey said.

Deplores Low Morale James Allen, local attorney, was the speaker at the luncheon meeting, making emphatic declarations to the effect that parents today should know where and what their boys and girls are doing when they are away from home.

"The general morale is in a deplorable condition, and there is opportunity for an organization, such as the Exchange club, in educating our young people along different lines than those they are following now," declared the attorney, in pointing out that prison statistics reveal that 90 per cent of the criminals are between 20 and 25 years of age, while 40 per cent are under 20 years.

"The condition is reflected in colleges as well, where there is general dereliction among boys and girls," he added, and emphasized his general point by stating that on a drive to Los Angeles any day, one may meet automobiles and see girls sitting on the laps of male companions.

"If we are to have that kind of

WAR ORPHAN HEARS ABOUT AMERICAN LEGION'S WORK

Buron R. Fitts, vice chairman of the California state committee of the American Legion Endowment fund for disabled veterans and orphans is shown telling Mary Frances McClain, the little motion picture star, whose father died for the flag in Siberia, about the Legion's work for children of former service men.

County Organizes For Intensive Campaign on Endowment Fund

Orange county is organizing for an intensive campaign to put "over the top" its part in the state quota for the American Legion Endowment fund being raised to assist disabled war veterans and to care for the orphans of former service men.

The drive in Orange county will begin on June 1, and will continue until the various communities complete their quotas. The quota for the entire county is approximately $10,000.

A man who has always stepped to the front in work for disabled veterans, and who has been a leader in Southern California Legion activities, has been chosen vice chairman of the state committee to lead the southern section of the state to victory for the endowment fund. He is Buron Fitts of Los Angeles.

"It is not a question of talking someone out of money for this drive," Fitts told Orange county Legionnaires several days ago, when he spoke here on the drive and its chances for success in Southern California. "It's just to let them know what we want the money for," he said.

"When we think of little children, underfed and weak and sick, it is bad enough, but when we realize that these children are those left behind by our comrades in war, it is even worse," he declared.

IN EFFORT TO

Powerful Influence Reported In Attempt to Secure Release of Neuteboom

Hints of a political plot in Utah, designed to secure the release of W. E. Neuteboom, now serving a 20-year sentence at San Quentin for attempted robbery at Anaheim, were heard today in connection with fresh indictments against the Oregon youth, who led an automobile bandit raid through this county recently.

Two indictments charging Neuteboom with robbery were returned by the Los Angeles county grand jury yesterday. It was admitted in Los Angeles official circles that the new proceedings against Neuteboom were intended to supplement the state's hold upon him and prevent his powerful political friends from engineering his release.

Would Prevent Punishment
The same interests that procured parole of Neuteboom from the Utah state prison, where he had been sent because of an earlier crime, are said to be plot-ting now to prevent his punishment by California authorities for the series of robberies his gang staged on the night of last March 6, when Neuteboom and his three companions were captured by the Anaheim police.

Neuteboom, with Jack Lee, Roy Lane and Virginia Lee Hymer, the "flapper bandit," stole an automobile in Los Angeles, held up two men there, and then started forth on further crime quest. Near Fullerton, they held up J. R. Mayer, Santa Ana banker, and at Anaheim they stopped a stage driven by Paul Burke, of Los Angeles. Neuteboom, the ringleader, was "convinced" Burke with a pistol when two Anaheim police officers, notified of the Mayer holdup, arrived on the scene and bagged the quartet of outlaws.

Neuteboom Admits Guilt
In court, Neuteboom pleaded guilty to an attempted robbery of Burke and was sentenced to 20 years. He said he was the son of an Oregon printer and had served time in the Utah prison, being granted parole.

Lee, Lane and Miss Hymer were tried on a charge of robbing Mayer. During the trial, the state dropped prosecution of the girl and Lane was released. The jury found Lee and Lane guilty, but recommended leniency for Lane, who was only 16 years old. Lee was sent to San Quentin and Lane to the Preston School of Industry at Ione.

Hearing of the reported Utah plot to release Neuteboom, who is regarded as a dangerous criminal, Los Angeles authorities took steps to head off such action.
They revived the robbery charges there and procured indictments based upon the holdup of Dr. R.
W. Simmons and J. Amador, who were victims of Neuteboom's gang before Mayer and Burke were encountered.

WANT ALL TO ORANGE COUNTY
WEAR POPPIES. SHRINERS WILL AND VETERANS FLOCK TO L. A.

"A crimson poppy on every Santa Ana, in memory of those who died during and as the result of the World war."

Members of the Santa Ana auxiliary have adopted this slogan in preparation for their great poppy sale on Friday.

The poppies are pretty paper affairs, bearing the insignia of the Legion auxiliary, and were made by disabled veterans in California.
Santa Ana folk, in buying these poppies for any sum which they wish to give, will be helping in two ways—giving employment to needy veterans, and aiding the auxiliary in making bright the lives of those veterans who are flat on their backs.

The auxiliary is one of the few larger organizations dedicated entirely to service to others. It acquires funds for its welfare program through hard work. The annual poppy sale is the only time it asks the public as a whole to help shoulder its responsibilities, and every member is hoping for generous donations from the wearers of the poppies on Friday.

Most persons think of World war sufferers as men only. The war nurse has become a big problem in California, as most of the disabled are hospitalized here, more than being at Camp Kearney, and many with husbands and little children, always hoping for their cure and return home.

In addition it is estimated that 5000 children in the United States are orphans as the result of the war.

WILL OPEN REST ROOM FOR WOMEN

Santa Ana has long needed a downtown rest and recreation center for business women and girls. Through efforts of the women's committee of the Young Men's Christian association, this need is soon to be filled. Secretary Ralph C. Smedley announced today.

The room on the northwest corner of Fifth and Sycamore, formerly occupied by the Southern Counties Gas company, has been donated to the girls for their use until actual construction of the new Masonic building is begun. One corner of the room will be fitted with couches as a rest room for tired business girls or shopping or traveling woman. In another corner, will be little tables, where girls who bring their lunches may enjoy eating with friends, and in a third corner will be a piano and magazines.

The room will be open daily except Sunday. Miss Elder, secretary for the work of women and girls, will be in charge, and will have her office in the building.

It is hoped by those in charge that every woman, whether she is a home or business woman in Santa Ana, will feel that this room is her downtown home and will take a personal interest in helping to make it comfortable and attractive. Because the organization of a Young Women's Christian association is expected to be effected early in the fall, this room will be known as the Y. W. C. A. Hospitality center, the sponsors announce.

The addresses of approximately 400 Shriners next week will be changed from cities and communities in Orange county to Los Angeles, for that number of wearers of the fez are scheduled to put in the full week in the Angel city, attending the annual session of the Imperial council, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and to assist in entertaining the thousands of Nobles who will assemble there from all sections of the United States.

According to C. J. Cogan, president of the Orange County Shrine club, Orange county Shriners have been called upon to offer a special service in Los Angeles, in the way of assisting in the direction of affairs and in co-operating in entertainment features to be provided for the visitors.
Local Shriners also will place themselves and their automobiles at disposal of the visitors.

The official Shrine parade will be on Wednesday evening, and this will be the official welcome to visiting Nobles and their ladies. Cogan, Sam Jernigan and J. H. Cloyes, each will captain a company of 50 or more men, who will participate in the parade.
The members of each company will not necessarily be residents of Orange county.

County Shriners are directed to report at Post 81, 82 or 93, on West Twenty-ninth street, between Flower and Grand, opposite the polytechnic high school, Los Angeles, at 7 p. m., sharp, Wednesday.

"Orders call for a full dress, fez and smile—this is the official dress of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine," Cogan says in a letter mailed today to club members.

"If you prefer tuxedo, wear it, but a dark suit with white shirt and black bow tie—giving the semblance of evening dress—will do, but you are expected, as a Shrine, to be there, provided you have not been assigned to any other duty."

Pointing out that, during the week, there are to be seven stellar features at the Coliseum, to which the public will be welcome, Cogan said that season tickets for the big program are not being purchased by the public of Southern California in the numbers anticipated. The season tickets are $5.50, including war tax, and locally may be purchased at the Santa Ana branch of the Pacific-Southwest bank, or from Cogan.

"It is estimated that it will cost $400,000 to carry out the big program of entertainment provided for the nobility of North America and the sale of at least 60,000 season tickets is necessary to successful financing of the affair," Cogan said. "The series of parades and pageants will be the greatest affair of its kind ever staged anywhere in the world, and those who fail to witness the big features will always regret it. It is possible the general public has labored to some extent under the impression that the big programs are exclusively for Shriners. This is not true. The public is invited to share the pleasures with the Shriners."

Al Malakiah temple, directing the big convention, has not called upon the general public for donations to the entertainment fund.
Each Shriner in the Southland has been assessed $10. It was contemplated that the balance of the finances would be developed through the sale of the season tickets."

Santa Ana Post Completes Arrangements For Memorial Day Program

VETERANS WILL MARK
PASSING OF COMRADES

Ritualistic Services to Be Held by Monument In Santa Ana Cemetery

Santa Ana Sedgwick post, No.
17, G. A. R., today had completed the program for Memorial day, next Saturday, when residents of this community will join with thousands of others throughout the nation in paying tribute to those who fought for the Union in the days of '61 to '65.

According to F. M. Grigsby, chaplain of the local post, school children have been asked to bring flowers to the various schools on Friday. In the late afternoon, the flowers will be picked up and taken to G. A. R. hall, preparatory to using the following morning in decorating the graves of old soldiers in Fairhaven and Santa Ana cemeteries.

Saturday will mark the 57th anniversary of the date set aside by Gen. John A. Logan, by order No.
11, for the purpose of strewing with flowers, or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades, Chaplain Grigsby said.

"Congress later made the day a national holiday, but to the G. A.
R. it never has seemed a holiday," Grigsby said. "It has seemed to us rather a holy day, and it is with sincere feelings of regret that we note the day is being desecrated with baseball games, automobile races and other amusements that might well be relegated to other than this sacred day."

The veteran pointed out that Civil war veterans are rapidly diminishing in number and predicted that the final post of the G. A. R. would be located in Southern California, possibly in Los Angeles.

"Veterans are constantly deserting their old homes in the east to come to California to pass their declining years, and it is only a matter of time when posts now established in the east will have no members," he said. "It is because of this fact, that I anticipate that the last post with sufficient numerical strength to muster a quorum will be located in Southern California."

Veterans Will Cooperate.
Members of Sedgwick post and Gordon Granger post, the latter located at Orange, with Spanish war veterans, the American Legion and all other patriotic bodies, are expected to cooperate in the work of decorating the graves of departed comrades. Previous to 1924
a. m., a committee in charge of G.
J. Mosbaugh, assisted by Sons of Veterans, will decorate the graves of Civil war veterans in the local burial grounds. There are 433 such graves. It was announced by Grigsby that more than 500 veterans, who have been identified with Sedgwick post, have departed this life, but that all of them have not been buried here. The post now has a membership of about 85.

conduct, what will tomorrow be?" the speaker queried, following a statement that men and women of today are the men and women who will be conducting affairs of the country tomorrow.

"Must Raise Morale"
"Something should be done to straighten out the morale of our young people, and the older ones, too," the lawyer said, in concluding his address.

It was revealed at the meeting that Charles Swanner, president, is to be married on June 6, and plans were made for a club "ladies' night," the affair to be in the nature of a reception to the president and his bride and to be held just after June 12, when the happy couple will have returned from their honeymoon. Floyd Croddy and Frank Cartmel were named as the committee to set the date and develop plans for the reception.

The club assumed responsibility of paying the rent during the summer months for a hall on West Fifth street used as a clinic for Mexicans.

New Lights at Orange Switched On Tuesday Night

ORANGE, May 27.—The ornamental lighting system, recently installed on West Chapman avenue, from Main street to the Santa Fe railway crossing, was switched on last night for the first time.

The new lighting circuit, a continuation of the system from the city plaza, gives West Chapman avenue an attractive appearance at night, the street being lighted from the business district through to the city limits.

The cost of the project, which included the installation of 35 ornamental light posts and globes, placed at intervals of 150 feet on each side of the street, was $7,073.60.

It was announced yesterday by C. C. Bonebrake, city engineer, that property owners along the lighted highway will have until July 15 to pay cash assessments, after that all unpaid assessments going to bonds, payable annually over a period of 10 years.

Three-Cent Movies

In Java motion picture operators get their patronage going and coming. It costs real money to buy a picture from the front, but the Dutch owners decided the poverty-stricken natives should experience a thrill as well. It was found by leaving the back of the theater open a fairly good view could be obtained from that side. So out in the tropical open the flappers and sheiks of Java nightly pass judgment on the various celebrities for the moderate admission fee of 3 cents.—Exchange.

HARRY CAREY FILM OPENS AT VOST THEATER

We've seen some mighty fine pictures dealing with the eventful days of '49, but "The Flaming Forties," Harry Carey's latest starring vehicle, which had its premiere at the Vost theater last night, excels most of them all in story and execution. Nor have we ever seen Carey do better work than in this vivid picturization of "Tennessee's Partner." Bret Harte's widely read story of life on the wide western plains. Loyalty of Bret Harte who read the old American tale will be delighted with this screen version, as the well-known star brings the leading character, Bill Jones, to life with so much realism and color that henceforth when we think of "Tennessee's Partner" we shall visualize Harry Carey in the role, and undoubtedly all who see his splendid performance will do likewise.

"ZANDER THE GREAT" OPENS AT WALKER THEATER

If one were to tell in detail the plot of "Zander the Great," which opened yesterday at the Walker theater, half the enjoyment of future audiences would be spoiled, for the situations, incidents and climaxes, as well as the comedy and drama packed into this human interest screen offering, have the flavor and surprise qualities of an O. Henry story.

"Zander the Great," starring Marion Davies, proved a complete surprise to those who have grown accustomed to viewing Miss Davies in elaborate period costumes of "Little Old New York," "Yolanda" and "Janice Meredith."

In this picture Miss Davies evolves from a little orphan girl in an asylum to a young woman of strong character, great beauty and charm of manner, but it is not on this slender thread that the picture is based. Rather it is upon the exciting incidents and the unusual situations that arise from the fact that as Mamie, the lovable, whimsical heroine, Miss Davies finds herself the center of a hotbed of plot, counterplot, adventure and romance generally.

The drama whirls and vibrates around Mamie's adopted child. The comedy touches are supplied by such noted artists as Holbrook Blinn, Harry Myers, Richard Carle and Harry Watson Jr., while the more serious and dignified incidents are enacted by Harrison Ford and Hobart Bosworth.

COLLEGE POULTRY EXPERTS SPEAKERS

Dr. William Lipincott and Dr. J. R. Beach, poultry specialists with the University of California, were the principal speakers at the monthly meeting of the poultry department of the Orange County Farm bureau at Ketter's cafe last night. Both speakers gave interesting data on conditions in the industry and on the care of birds.

The department voted to assess members one cent per bird in order to raise a reward fund. It is proposed to place $1000 in a local bank, to be paid out to persons who capture chicken thieves or who give information which leads to their capture. Four hundred dollars have already been raised towards the total sought.

In the absence of Will Hatch, chairman of the department, W. M. Corp, assistant farm advisor, presided.

"RIDERS OF PURPLE SAGE" AT WEST END

A band of outlaws riding hot on his heels, the woman he loved relying on his protection and, to make matters worse, a little girl to be taken care of; there before him a rock wall, rising almost one hundred feet overhead—that was the predicament which confronted him.

What was the man? Lassiter, the character Zane Grey made famous in his novel "Riders of the Purple Sage," picture now showing at the West End theater. What did he do? He bent every faculty to the task of finding a way out.

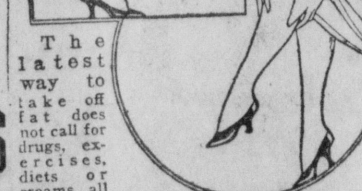

At intervals, in a zig-zag design, he saw footholds dug hundreds of years before by cliff dwellers who had inhabited the canyon. With the child on his back and the woman following closely, Lassiter began the ascent.

The desperadoes made his effort harder by firing whenever opportunity afforded. Lassiter's guns were lost on the perilous climb. Reaching the top, weaponless, facing a horde of brute men who gave no quarter, the defender looked for some means of defeating the onslaught.

Nearby, on the edge of the cliff, was a huge boulder that had been balanced for centuries on its narrow base. It weighed almost a ton. Could he budge it? That was his only chance. Striving until his tendons seemed to crack, Lassiter felt it give a bit. Again he strained and found that it swung, almost like a pendulum. Timing the sway of the rock, Lassiter used a last convulsive, mad-dened effort and it toppled over the cliff.

I found a new way to TAKE OFF FAT

The latest way to take off fat does not call for drugs, exercises, diets, creams, all one needs to do is have a trim, slender figure is to get from the drug store some of Dr. Folt's Soap for Reducing, and apply it night and morning on fat parts. Mrs. W. E. writes us that for five weeks she faithfully used this soap with the most wonderful results. This is all she did. Every night she made a good lather with Dr. Folt's Soap, applied it on her bust, hips, abdomen, etc., left the lather on a few minutes, then washed off. Her measurements before starting this simple, easy way were as follows:

Bust, 33. Today Bust is 30.
Hips, 64. Today Hips are 61.
She says that she had a double chin which made her look years older. It has entirely vanished. Dr. Folt's Soap has already helped a great many people to take off excess fat, although in the past it had only been made in a limited quantity by the Doctor himself, who kept his formula for his private practice. Lately it has been put up in convenient soap form and can be had from most leading drug or department stores. No diets or exercises are necessary. It is guaranteed ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS, and is remarkable to beautify the skin and rid it of pimples or eruptions. BEWARE OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS. ASK FOR AND GET DR. FOLT'S SOAP. If your druggist is out of it, he cannot get it for you from his wholesaler, or you can send a check or money order direct to the Scientific Research Laboratories, 350 W. 11th St., N. Y. C. Dr. Folt's Soap sells for 50c. a cake or 3 for $1.20.

TRAFFIC EXPERT TO ADDRESS P.-T. MEET

L. B. Lefferts, head of the safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, and one of the best known traffic experts in the country, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Santa Ana City Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, to be held tomorrow evening at the Congregational church.

The automobile club is co-operating with the school authorities and the P.-T. A. officials in reducing accidents and making streets and highways safe for children.

Because of the important matters to be taken up, including election of officers, a record attendance is expected. Included in the entertainment program are several numbers by the Boys' Glee club of Frances Willard junior high school.

Through an error it was announced yesterday that the meeting would be held in the Frances Willard junior high school when as a matter of fact it will be held in the Congregational church.

Public Invited To Memorial Program

All members of patriotic organizations and the general public are invited to attend Memorial day exercises which will be held in the public schools tomorrow and Friday. Elementary schools will hold their exercises between 11:30 a. m. and noon Friday, and the high school will hold exercises at 9:45 a. m. tomorrow. The two junior high schools will give demonstrations, the Frances Willard school at 8:30 a. m. Friday, and the Julia Lathrop school at 11:30 a. m. Friday. The two junior high schools and the Roosevelt school have been designated as the schools to accept flowers for the decoration of graves. PLAYS PART OF AUNTIE IN AMERICAN LEGION'S SHOW

Seat sales of the American Legion play, "The Full House," to be staged at the Walker theater for three nights, beginning next Wednesday, are satisfactory to the ticket committee of the Legion. It is announced.

"Sale of seats for this show is far in advance at this time, over our last show, and it looks as though we will fill every seat in the theater on all three nights," said Eddie Foque, chairman of the ticket committee.

Foque also has an important part in the play. As "Moon-ey," police officer, he and "Susie," the maid (Mrs. Lela Baird) have a scene that is said to be one of the funniest in the entire play.

L. R. Crawford, as sergeant, is another important character in the show. His orders of "you can come in, but you can't go out," act directly on the entire cast and have an important bearing on the show.

Miss Helena Liebermann, as the owner of the apartment where the "dirty work" is done, and where the entire show is staged, must be unusually angered when she walks into her apartment in the last act, to find that it has been turned over to a bunch of thieves and cut-throats, and her part is described as one of the cleverest in the show.

"Auntie," the guardian of the two girls of the show, is played by Miss Fannie Reeves, well known in local amateur theatricals.

HELFFRICH DEFEATS NURMI IN HALF MILE

ABOUT SOUTHPAWS

Left handed pitching was expected to cut big capers in the majors this year. So far it has been more or less of a disappointment.

Prior to the opening of the 1925 campaign no less a distinguished leader than Connie Mack figured that the southpaws would carry much of his pitching burden.

When I looked the Athletics over in spring training at Ft. Myers, Fla., Connie was grooming a quartette of "lefties" for a big season.

There was the veteran Fred Helffrich, apparently just about ready to break out as a star, "Lefty" Groves, the $100,000 beauty, Big Waiberg and Stan Baumgartner, who had done well last year for the A's. In addition Meeker loomed up as a good prospect.

However, during the first month of the campaign, southpaw pitching was of little help to the Athletics in setting the pace.

Of the first 20 victories scored by the Athletics, only three are credited to the southpaws of the staff. Groves, Waiberg and Baumgartner each winning one game.

RIGHT-HANDERS STAR
Instead of southpawing the opposition into submission, three right-handers have kept the Athletics out in front.

Sam Gray, easily the sensation of the majors, has won his first seven starts. Gray is a sterling performer, destined to be a much talked about athlete before the end of the season.

The veteran Ed Rommel is getting away to a great start. He has won six of his first seven games. Perhaps even more pleasing to Mack is the early season showing of Bryan Harries, otherwise known as "Slim." Mack figured Gray and Rommel to win, he was not so certain about Harries.

Almost overnight he acquired poise, the one and only thing he lacked. If Harries continues his fine showing, Mack is well fortified for right-handers. It gives him three stars.

The word of Mack's three right-handers proves conclusively that right-handed pitching, backed by intelligence, is just as an effective weapon as curves and fast ones delivered from the portside.

Crimson Captain Is Among Best Runners In College Circles

ALBERT H. O'NEIL
Here's the new track team captain at Harvard University. He's reputed to be one of the fastest 440 and 880-yard men in eastern college circles. The Crimson expects great things of him this season.

MANNA EASILY WINS ENGLISH TURF CLASSIC

EPSOM DOWNS, England, May 27.—Ridden by Steve Donohue, England's premier jockey, H. Morris' Manna cantered to easy victory by eight lengths in the historic derby stakes today.

Aga Khan's Zonist was second and the Sirdar was third. The Sirdar was from the stable of the American horseman, A. K. Macomber, but was bred in Europe.

Manna, the winner, was a heavily backed favorite at 5 to 1.

Thousands of pounds had been wagered on Manna simply because Steve Donohue, who had ridden five other derby winners, had been selected for the mount.

Twenty-seven starters went to the post on a track that was soft from the heavy rain but Manna was given a beautiful ride and was kept clear of interference.

King George, Lord Astor and the Butcher of Chichester, whose Priory Park was the choice of the proletariat, saw their entries badly beaten. Manna is the only colt Morris has run in England.

Just before the starters went to

VANCE GIVEN AWARD AS MOST VALUABLE PLAYER IN LEAGUE

Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn's great pitcher, was presented with $1000 in gold and a medal emblematic of the most valuable player in the National league for the 1924 season during the Golden Jubilee celebration at Ebbets field the other day. Vance, last year, won 28 games and lost six.

The presentation of the bag of gold was made by Fried Lieb, president of the Baseball Writers' association, as is depicted in the above photograph.

RAY WALKER RESIGNS POST AT HUNTINGTON BEACH; TO COACH AT HARVARD MILITARY SCHOOL

Ray ("Feet") Walker, for the past eight years director of athletics at Huntington Beach high school and producer of some of the nationally known interscholastic track athletics, has resigned to accept a position as head coach at the Harvard Military academy, Los Angeles, it became known here today.

Walker's resignation has been tendered the Huntington Beach board of education and will go in effect at the close of the present school term. No successor has been named.

He will replace Glenn Potter, former Orange high school and University of Illinois athlete, who has had charge of athletics at the Harvard school for the past few months.

Potter is well known here and reports had him linked as a possible member of the Santa Ana coaching staff next year. It is understood, however that he has virtually decided to coach at Compton high next year.

Walker will begin his activities at Harvard, which will be in the San Fernando Valley league, September 1. In addition to his coaching duties, the Huntington Beach man plans to take an advanced course in medicine at a Los Angeles school.

Walker was a star athlete during his prep days at Long Beach and he was one of the best linemen in the history of Occidental College.

For three seasons, 1922-23-24, Walker produced track teams at Huntington Beach that were among the best in the United States. With five men, his team placed second in the national high school meet in Chicago in 1922, after winning both the Southern California and state interscholastic meets.

In 1923 and 1924 his teams placed high in all state classics. Bill Kern and Ross Nichols, probably the most famous of his proteges, now are students at Stanford University. "Bub" and Milt Nash are attending Occidental. Charlie Bickmore went to U. S. C. last year. Virgil Elliott is starring at Bethany college, West Va.

HUSKIES BEAT COUGERS.
SEATTLE, May 27.—The University of Washington track and field team romped home with an easy victory over Washington State College in their annual dual meet at the stadium yesterday. The Huskies finished with a score of 80 to 51.

EDISONS GRAB EXTRA INNING INDOOR MATCH

Had Thomas A. Edison himself been down at the Poly indoor baseball grounds last night he would have gotten a "kick" out of the wild and woolly City league brawl which his Southern California Edison company team won 12 to 11, in extra innings from the Register Publishing company aggregation.

Thomas A. would have been shocked, chilled and thrilled during the course of that weird brawl just as was the large band of fans. He would have gotten his chills and shocks when the Scribes, trailing 11 runs behind and apparently hopelessly crushed, got to the tiring "Jug" Walters in the sixth frame for seven runs and in the seventh for three more which tied the score. He would have had his thrills when the battling Edisons tightened at that point and came back in two extra rounds to put the old ball game out of the fire.

The Edisons scored their 12 runs on seven hits and the newspapermen got their 11 tallies on the same number of safe bingles. Five passes and an error were against the Pole-Climbers and four were made by the Scribes. Both pitchers, Jerome and Walters, were wild with men on bases which tended to add fuel to the burning fires.

The Edisons scored twice in the first spash on two hits and an error; made four in the third on an error, two singles and two walks; five in the fourth on two walks and clean hits by Walbridge, Kornder and Dockstader and won the issue in the ninth on an error and a walk.

Finley went around the bags for The Register in the first canvas. The Scribes couldn't count again until the sixth when three hits, including a triple by Berry, two passes and an error were thrown together to net seven markers. Three errors and Sylvester's single accounted for the three Register runs made in the seventh.

Indoor ball fans will be treated to a double-header to-night and as both are league games a capacity crowd is expected. Wayne Nelson's Southern Counties Gas company team, one of the principal contenders for the city title, hooks up with the dangerous Excelsior squad in the curtain-raiser at 7:30 o'clock. Earl Jones leads his Chandler Furniture company outfit against the Kiwanis club in the nightcap at 8:30 o'clock. The box score:

Piping 'Em Off

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Max Carey, veteran Pittsburgh outfielder—stole second, third and home in the fourth inning and helped beat the Cubs, 7 to 2.

Te Cobb added another new record to his list when he hit his one thousandth extra base hit, beating Hans Wagner's old mark. The Tigers beat the White Sox, 8 to 1.

Graham and Cooney, young Boston pitchers, were too good for the Giants and the Braves copped a double header, 5 to 2 and 5 to 4.

Williams and Sisler starred as the Browns downed the Indians twice at 8 to 4 and 5 to 4. "Lefty" Groves, the $100,000 southpaw, lasted only five innings, during which he allowed six runs and the Senators beat the Athletics 11 to 2.

Tired and Worn From Long Track Campaign, Paavo Plans Return to Home

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 27.—Tired, worn and stale from a campaign that was too much for a superman, Paavo Nurmi, world's champion distance runner, returns home to Finland tomorrow with a mixed assortment of triumphs.

He beat everyone in this country at his own game but when he stepped out of his role last night and attempted a race where sustained speed and not durability was the main essential, he was defeated.

Nurmi finished twelve yards behind Allen Helffrich of Penn State, one of the greatest middle distance runners on the track, in a special half mile race on the track at the Yankee stadium. It was the final appearance of the Finn.

It is not generous to Helffrich, a fine boy and a great runner, but it is only fair to blame the rather crushing defeat of the Finnish star upon the lack of condition.

Helffrich finished fresh, 12 yards ahead of Nurmi in 1:56.45, which does not compare to Ted Meredith's nine year old record of 1:52.1-5.

Those who had seen the great Nurmi run in Antwerp and in Paris at the Olympic and in his early races on the boards in this country knew that he was not there when he tried to keep up with the flying American 100 yards from home.

"Nurmi's awfully tired," Hugo Quist, his manager, said today. "He's going home and rest. He's called off the races he planned to run in England and Germany this summer and is going to rest until the fall. Maybe he'll come back to this country in the winter."

Albin Stenroos, Olympic marathon champion, made a new record for one hour's running when he covered 1. miles, 153 yards, and Carl Christensen, Newark, A. C., equaled the world's record of 13.15 seconds for the 100 yards high hurdles.

ANAHEIM TEAMS IN PIN CONGRESS HERE

With the enrollment today of two strong Anaheim teams, entries for the five-man event in the Santa Ana City Bowling Congress, which will be held at the A. and B. alleys here the week beginning June 1, swelled to 19 quintettes.

The Anaheim squads are headed by the veteran pin-giggers, Jim Heffron, former Pacific Northwest champion, and Bill Karam, two of the premier bowlers of the Southland.

Five-man teams with an average of $50 or less may enter by paying the fee of $3.60 per man. Two men teams must not rate above a 340 average, the entry fee in this event is $2.40. For the individuals there are to be two classes with an entry fee of $1.60. All bowlers who have an average of 168 or under are in one class and those with 169 and over are grouped in the other.

Ruth Discharged From Hospital; Now Weighs 175

NEW YORK, May 27.—Babe Ruth was back home in his hotel apartments today after having spent seven weeks in St. Vincent's hospital. He will be allowed to work out daily with the New York Yankees but it may be a week or more before he can do any actual playing. He now weighs 175 pounds, 30 pounds less than he did at the training camp.

SOUTHPAW PITCHERS DISAPPOINT MAJORS

good pitching and the club is certain to be a most dangerous factor in the American league race. It has the punch and enthusiasm of a winner.

CASE OF GROVES

Mack's southpaws have done but little in the early stages of the race, but it is reasonably certain that before the close of the season, at least two of them, Groves and Baumgartner, should be most helpful.

While the much-touted Groves has disappointed as a consistent winner, simply because of lack of control, he has shown flashes of a great pitcher.

His best performance to date was his work as relief pitcher in a recent game against Detroit. Working four innings, he allowed no hits and retired six of the Tigers on strikes.

Groves has burning speed. I cannot recall a left-hander to break into the American league since the days of the late Rube Waddell that boasted more.

The fast ball delivered by Groves is good enough to get him by with the use of a curve, if he only had control. However, Groves has a tantalizing bender, in addition to great speed.

Groves may be a trifle late in arriving, but he is going to land one of these days with a thud and when he does it will be in the select spot occupied by stardom.

Manager's Task

What part does the manager play in the success of a ball club?

That question is often put to me when discussing the showing of certain teams which either surprise or disappoint.

I am inclined to think that it is about a 50-50 proposition. A pennant-winning club must have the talent and incidentally it must be properly handled.

No matter how wise the manager he cannot make base hits for the batters, pitch for the pitchers or field for the fielders. He can direct but he cannot execute.

However, a capable manager can get far more out of a team than the leader who lacks diplomacy as well as strategy.

The Chicago White Sox offer an excellent example of what the manager means to a ball club.

The Sox, a distinct disappointment last season, a tallender, are the surprise of the 1925 American league race.

The difference in the team's showing is a compliment to the methods of Collins as a manager. It is the same team playing with a different spirit.

MANNA IS WINNER OF ENGLISH DERBY

the post the West British cable system, reaching every corner of the empire and foreign nations, ceased to function, awaiting the fastest handled message of the year on the winner. Special arrangements were made for instantaneous transmission of the "flash" to the Prince of Wales in South Africa and to Army officers at isolated posts in the West Indies, Hong Kong, Calcutta, Bombay, Kenya, Mesopotamia and to citizens in Australia and the United States.

Hundreds of millions of dollars must have been wagered on the derby. The difficulty of figuring the winner on form this year made interest even greater and the betting brisker than it has been in past years.

There was very little to the race but Manna, who cantered across the finish line hardly breathing with a lead of eight lengths over Zionist. The Sirdar was two lengths behind Zionist.

The Calcutta sweepstake ticket on Manna, held by James Carew, Liverpool shipping man, was worth approximately $450,000.

Callahan Defeats Myers at Vernon

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—The camps of "Mushy" Callahan and George Rivers celebrated today their victories at Vernon in the two main events last night.

Clever boxing gained Callahan, newsboy welterweight, the decision over the more aggressive and harder hitting Spiz Myers after ten rounds of scrapping. George Rivers received the decision over Young Nationalista against the wishes of the crowd. The fighters appeared to be even at the end of the ten rounds and a demonstration followed the referee's decision.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON May 27.—Herbert Quick, the writer and ex-member of the federal farm loan board, who died recently, was even more interesting face to face than in his extremely interesting books.

Quick had known no end of celebrities and eccentricities, had had a hand in many important and unusual happenings and told his experiences in the queerest way. He looked at them from an angle all his own—not a bit like any other angle.

At the proper age for it, he had had infantile paralysis which left him not crippled, but with a noticeable peculiarity of gait. Infantile paralysis, he contended, was a very valuable thing to have had—it greatly strengthened and improved the intellect, provided the patient lived.

He didn't say that nobody became great who hadn't had it, but he did insist that practically everybody who did have it became great. Or possibly only the potentially great were subject to it. He wasn't sure which.

He was very proud of the fact that crooks and criminals of every variety had an instinctive liking for him.

It was true they did. He was brought in contact with all the shady saloon men, dive keepers, gamblers and miscellaneous bad characters in town during the period of his Sioux City mayoralty—and they were pretty plenty there then—and every one of them took to him at first sight.

It wasn't that he did anything to win their kindly regard. They simply gave it to him unasked. Even when he closed them up, they spoke well of him just the same.

He didn't like crime, he said, but he condoned a reasonable amount of vice. Within bounds, he explained, though reprehensible, he considered it the vicious individual's own affair.

Probably this attitude was what endeared him to the liberal element. It didn't endear him to puritans, however, and one term as mayor was all he got out of three candidacies—and the first one, before the liberal-minded better part of the citizenry had found out what kind of character they subsequently thought he was. His humor was too subtle for much success in politics.

RUSSIANS USE MUCH PAPER IN REPORT FILING

MOSCOW, May 26.—Russia has always been a country of red tape and bureaucracy. This condition has not been changed by the extension of state management to most of the industry and a good deal of the trade of the Soviet Union.

While no exact statistics are available, it would probably be safe to guess that Russia holds the world's record for paper used up in reports and questionnaires and time spent in congresses and meetings, large and small.

An enterprising reporter for the "Pravda" has dug up three stories which deserve to take prizes as illustrations of this humorous, if sometimes exasperating, side of Russian life.

One of the Russian railroads decided to build a branch line in a western part of the Soviet Union, which is known as White Russia. A vigilant official, or unofficial inspector, discovered, or thought he discovered, evidences of mismanagement in the construction of the branch line. So there arose a case, or, as the Russian call it, a "dyelo."

The dyelo grew with the rapidity and momentum of a snowball. The highest tribunal in White Russia passed it on to the Supreme court in Moscow. The Supreme court decided that the case didn't belong there and sent it back to White Russia. Finally it was agreed that the case was too trivial to demand the attention of the highest courts, so it went to Smolensk, the largest town in the neighborhood of the branch line. A game of bat-tledore-and-shuttlecock ensued between Smolensk and a smaller district centre.

When the case finally came up for trial in the latter place, the documents which had accumulated weighed over two hundred pounds. How the case was finally decided is not recorded, and is really not very essential, in view of the fact that the expenses involved in bringing the case to trial outweighed not only the cost of the alleged mismanagement, but the cost of building the branch line itself.

Longest Account

The Penza Wool trust distinguished itself by drawing up what may be the longest accounts in history. Its monthly accounts were made out on enormous sheets of paper, five yards long and two yards wide; and its accounts for the year, when spread out, covered an area of eighty-four square metres. The offices of the Supreme Economic council contained no tables large enough to hold these voluminous reckonings. So, in order to scrutinize the operations of the Wool trust, it was necessary to spread the accounts on the floor, and newcomers in the Supreme Economic council are sometimes startled upon finding accountants sprawled out in full length on the floor, checking up on the trust's balance sheets.

The Tula Trade union organization also put itself in line for a red tape prize by sending out to its members a questionnaire with 225 headings and about fifteen or twenty questions under each heading. This made a grand total of some four thousand questions through which the Tula trade-unions are supposed to struggle.

Healed by Cuticura.

"I had trouble with pimples and blackheads for about three years. The pimples were scattered all over my face and were hard and red. They itched and burned a lot causing me to scratch and the scratching caused eruptions. My face looked so badly that I was ashamed to go out.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me. I continued the treatment and in two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Helen Budnik, R. 1, Box 11, Needham, Wis., Sept. 27, 1924.

Your New England neighbor knows his dish—just bread with maybe a little butter or sugar dipped into a bowl of cold, rich milk. Simple, homely, health-giving food that has nourished presidents, professors, poets and pioneers who have left their impress on the greatest nation in the world.

We need more milk in our diet today, plain, pure milk such as Wilson's—Nature's best food unchanged.

Farm News From Everywhere

ADVANTAGES OF COUNTRY, CITY ARE OUTLINED

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Starting from "scratch," in a sod house, on unbroken land, poor as Job's turkey, practically without equipment, remote from markets, lonely, unorganized and unaided, the American farmer achieved a degree of prosperity unequalled by the tiller of the soil anywhere else on earth at any time in history.

Today, heavily capitalized, comfortably, even luxuriously housed, photograph playing the latest music into his ears, his automobile waiting at the door, his acres under intensive cultivation, every facility for getting maximum crops, money in the bank, in touch by telephone and radio with wheat pit and stockyard, backed by powerful co-operative organizations and advised by experts under the direction of a cabinet member all his own, the American farmer finds it hard to make ends meet.

Why is this thus? "Simply," answers William M. Jardine, the new secretary of agriculture, "because farming isn't an occupation at which it's easy to grow rich, and it wasn't farming which made, for America's early farmers, their fortunes of today."

Land Brought Riches
"They grew rich through the increase in the value of their land, given to them by the government at the start."

"I know of many farmers whose farms yielded them only bare livings and who yet attained wealth from this unearned increment. To engage in farming in this generation involves a considerable investment. Land is high and even the tenant farmer must buy himself an expensive equipment."

"Making reasonable interest on this investment is harder than it was for the farmer of three or four decades ago to take a living from land which cost him next to nothing and was becoming more valuable every year. It calls for more efficiency."

Why Cities Draw
"It accounts also for the tendency toward congestion in the cities. City life is easier. The city dweller need invest hardly anything, not even in a home. He rents on, furnished perhaps. He works for an employer who provides him with everything necessary to enable him to earn his pay."

"The farmer sees another thing—that the city worker's income is larger than his own. It attracts him to the city all the more."

"Then there are educational advantages for children in the cities. Even with modern means of communication and travel, they're not obtainable on the farm to the same degree. That item counts."

"The lights of the city are alluring, too."

Farm's Advantages
"Yes, the city has arguments on its side."

"But so has the farm. The farmer inclines to think much of his difficulties; little of his advantages."

"The city man makes more than the farmer but it costs him more to live, perhaps so much more that, in the end, the farmer is financially better off."

"And the farmer is his own master, living in his own house on his own land. He has means of communication, his own flowers, his own snowbirds, his own fresh air, his own birds. For these things the city offers no substitutes to the average man."

"The point I make is that the farmer, in considering his grounds for discontent, shouldn't forget his compensations."

25 AGRONOMY STUDENTS TO VISIT COUNTY

A group of 25 students from the agronomy division of the college of agriculture, University of California, will visit Orange county next Monday for the purpose of studying a few interesting agricultural projects in the county, with particular reference to soil management. During the day, visits will be made to the Irvine ranch, San Joaquin Fruit company's ranch, Newhope Drainage district west of Santa Ana, and the peatlands of the Wintersburg district.

Prof. J. P. Conrad of the college of agriculture will be in charge of the students on their trip, which takes them through many of the counties south of Berkeley. While in the county, the group will be conducted by Farm Advisor Wahlberg.

A group of horticulture students will visit Orange county on July 20 and 21. At this time, the county insectary, association laboratory, and several citrus groves will be visited by the students.

Peach Crop In South Smaller

Measured in dollars, 21 per cent more business was handled by co-operative sales agencies operating in terminal livestock markets in 1924 than in 1923, reports the bureau of agricultural economics of the U. S. department of agriculture. Twenty-five farmer owned and controlled sales agencies in 16 markets handled business to the amount of $235,000,000 in 1924, as compared with 26 agencies reporting business of $139,000,000 in 19 markets in 1923.

Poultry School In Santa Ana Is Well Attended

The two-day poultry school conducted here by Professors William A. Lippincott, William B. Newlon, Ralph B. Eason and J. E. Beach, attracted an unusually large number of women. Because of the large present the second day, the farm bureau office was found inadequate and a room at the Julia Lathrop school was secured. The school was sponsored by the University of California.

IRRIGATION TO BE DISCUSSED BY CITRUS MEN

One of the interesting and timely subjects that will be discussed at the summer citrus institute, to be held at the Anaheim high school, June 28 and 29, will be "Overhead Irrigation. Some Things We Have Yet to Learn." The topic will be discussed by H. A. Wadsworth, who is a specialist connected with the division of irrigation investigations, college of agriculture.

Wadsworth has made a special study of practically all overhead irrigation installations in Southern California and will bring to the growers assembled at the institute the best information available on this timely subject, it is asserted.

Other topics assigned for discussion for the two days' session include citrus irrigation, relation of nitrates to citrus production, citrus fertilization, citrus cultivation, scale control, spraying versus fumigation, biological control and other subjects.

All growers are invited to attend the sessions. According to Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, indications are that men from all parts of the Southland will be present to hear the experts discuss the problems which are confronting them.

PLAN INSTITUTE FOR EXHIBITORS

An exhibit institute for individuals and organizations planning to have exhibits at the annual county fair here in September will be held in the farm bureau directors' room, August 3, 4 and 5, it was announced today by A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the fair association.

William J. Norton, extension specialist in illustrative material, will be in charge of the institute. Norton recently returned to California from three months' tour of the east, during which he visited dozens of fairs.

The Norton course will be complete in every detail, and all planning to have exhibits are urged to attend.

CHANCE FACTOR IN POULTRY BREEDING

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 27.—Only by constant, careful selection and dependence on the law of chance may the poultry breeder expect to develop a flock that can be depended upon for high egg production in the following generation.

This theory is the result of years of observation on the egg-production records of hens entered in the egg-laying contests in New Jersey. It is propounded by George W. Hervey of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station.

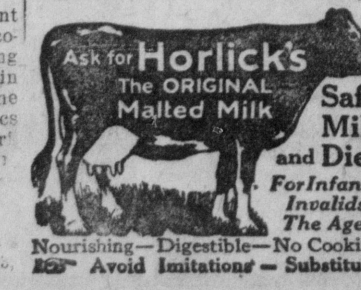

"Viewed strictly as a mass proposition," Hervey concludes, "in no instance is it possible to show an existing relationship between the production of daughters and their sires' dams, or between daughters' and dam's production."

"The fact that both the male and female in a given mating may come from a high-producing ancestry does not mean necessarily that the progeny will be endowed likewise. It is only when the right combination is effected by a mating of parents, both transmitting factors for high fecundity, that uniformly high production is manifested in the progeny."

It is therefore left to the breeder to choose such birds in order to get high records from the progeny. This, in addition to good breeding methods.

"The trap nest," Hervey advises, "offers the only certain means of selection, but the trap-nesting for the entire year is unnecessary. Under usual conditions, a winter trap-nest record of approximately 50 eggs is an expression of high prolificacy in leg-horns. Such a record is indicative of the potential 200-egg bird."

"When the stock is not uniformly mature on November 1, it is advisable to band all birds producing 20 eggs in the four winter months and then trap-nest them a second time, commencing July 1. If the late summer record added to winter production approximates 110 eggs, a requirement for the future breeding pen is fulfilled."

Safe Milk and Diet For Infants, Invalids, The Aged

AFRAID OF BEES? NOT SHE!

Southern bee raisers have sent to northern beekeepers thousands of pounds of live honey by mail. And no railroad mail clerk has protested, because the bees are packed in double-screen cages. The girl shown here is holding a consignment of 30,000 bees to the north.

WILL DISCUSS BEES REALLY ECONOMICS AT SLOW WORKERS. TWO MEETINGS SAY EXPERTS

According to word from the farm advisor's office, two interesting meetings have been scheduled for June 17 and 18 to discuss and study the present trend of various farm enterprises in Southern California. These sessions will be a continuation of meetings held two months ago.

Growers are showing a particular interest in the analysis of the farm business at this time because of the high cost of production and the narrow margin of profits. The bees are getting greater each year for a close account of all expenditures on the farm, it is said. The meetings are designed to assist the grower towards economical production.

The meetings will be held at the First National bank, Oils, June 17, at 7:30 p. m., and at the farm advisor's office, June 18, at 7:30 p. m. All growers are invited to be present.

Record Price Is Paid for Bull By Santa Paula Man

OXNARD, May 27.—A world's record price of $110,000 was paid to Berlywood Stock farm, near here, for Prince Aaggie, famous Holstein bull.

August A. Rubel, Santa Paula millionaire, purchased the 4-year-old animal recently to place him at the head of his herd of Holsteins.

Prince Aaggie, holder of many blue-ribbon awards, was brought to the Berlywood ranch as a calf four years ago by J. W. Snodgrass, the manager.

Snodgrass is now grooming a son and four daughters of the expensive animal for the national Holstein sale at Grand Rapids, Mich., June 4.

Cattle Business Is On Increase

The early peach crop this year in 10 southern states will be somewhat smaller than the large crop of last year, according to the May 1 condition report of the U. S. department of agriculture, which places the condition of the crop at 69.2 per cent of normal, as compared with 78.6 per cent last year. The condition figure for Georgia, which is by far the leading producer in the states covered, is 70 per cent, compared with 80 on May 1 a year ago. Texas shows a condition of 62 per cent this year, compared with 67 per cent for last year; North Carolina 73 per cent compared with 83 per cent; South Carolina 78 per cent against 78 per cent; Oklahoma 53 per cent against 84; Arkansas 74 per cent against 85 per cent.

CITY BEATS FARM IN DIVORCE RACE

STILLWATER, Okla., May 27.—Men's chances to keep the girls they wed are three times as great in country districts as in cities.

Census figures, compiled by J. T. Sanders, head of the department of agricultural economics at the Oklahoma A. and M. college here, show there is one divorce for every three marriages in cities of 5000 or more persons, in the state.

Yet in the farming sections of the state, Sanders points out, there was an average of one divorce for every six marriages.

TRACTORS WILL BE STUDIED AT FREE SCHOOLS

Five one-day tractor schools will be held in Orange county June 8 to 13, it was announced today by W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, who, with J. P. Fairbank, specialist in agriculture engineering with the University of California, will conduct the meetings.

The schools will be held in different sections of the county in order that all persons interested will have an opportunity to attend.

The week tractor school held in Santa Ana, in January, was highly successful, farmers from all sections of Orange county enrolling.

"All farmers and others who want to know more about tractors are extended an invitation to make arrangements to attend the schools," said Cory today. "They will, of course, be entirely free. At the school conducted at the high school in January, students came from all parts of the county. The success of that school prompts us to believe that the five one-day schools which we will conduct will be as successful."

Fair Board Holds Meeting to Talk Over Concessions

A meeting to discuss concessions and the sale of food at the annual county fair here in September was held by the fair board in the farm bureau office this afternoon. It was announced by A. M. Stanley, secretary and manager of the fair association, that merchants are responding readily to the request that they donate prizes at the fair.

Test 10,000,000 Cattle for T. B.

The nation-wide drive to stamp out bovine tuberculosis now includes veterinary supervision of more than 10,000,000 cattle, according to the U. S. department of agriculture.

Reports from various parts of the country show unusual interest in tuberculosis eradication on a county-wide basis. In the first three months of the year, the number of "modified accredited" counties, those having less than one-half of one per cent of the disease, increased from 53 to 69.

Veterinary officials of the bureau of animal husbandry consider that such progress is ample proof of the practicability of eventually freeing entire states from the disease.

RECOGNITION OF HEROIC ACT URGED BY CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, May 27.—

Application for a hero plaque in commemoration of the bravery of Otto Bernhardt, boatmaker, who sacrificed his life last Thursday in the rescue of two drowning youths in the harbor entrance channel, was made to the Carnegie Institute in a resolution adopted by the Newport Beach Board of Trustees.

During the discussion of the heroism of the boat builder who saved the lives of William Swain, 18, Yorba Linda, and Ed Records, 20, Murietta, the story of how a third member of the party, Velber Riffle, 20, Yorba Linda, was rescued by a laborer was unfolded.

Miss Claire Germain, Captain of the Girl Scouts of Newport Beach, a witness of the near tragedy for the three youths who had attempted to negotiate the dangerous channel in a frail canoe, which was swamped by a huge wave, told the story in her plea for a Carnegie medal for Verne Thompson, who, she declared, risked his life among the treacherous rocks below the Palisades to pull the unconscious form of young Riffle from the surf. Thompson, a worker on the installation of a water system on the Palisades, Miss Germain said, responded to her call for help after a number of autoists to whom she had appealed, laughingly remarked that the boy was only playing in the surf.

Citizens of Newport Beach, it was reported today, had contrived liberally toward a subscription for the dead boat builder's widow and his aged father who reside at Bala.

The body of Bernhardt had not been recovered today, although a diligent search has been maintained since he was drowned.

GIRLS TAKE OVER SCHOOL OFFICES

FULLERTON, May 27.—

The girls of the local high school were given their chance to have a say in the management of the institution today on the occasion of the first celebration of "Girls' Day." "Boys' Day" has become an annual custom and it was only as a result of the persistent insistence on the part of the "new feminism" for equal recognition that the idea of having a "Girls' Day" was presented.

Like all radicals, when the girls took their places in the various positions of responsibility, when the august board of trustees of 18-year-old flappers gathered around the big oak table in the inner sanctum with the destiny of the school and student body in their hands, they at once became conservative. Gone any notions that once they might have harbored as possible improvements in school regulations and so forth upon them sat ominously the full significance, never before realized, of the vast responsibility of having other people's lives and destinies in one's keeping.

Nancy Hezmalhalch, daughter of the city clerk, headed the board of trustees as principal, the trustees being Jean McGill, Beatrice Lang, Leona Jackson, Katherine Goodwin and Alice Corcoran. Other girls took over the management of the various school departments.

Seek Sidewalk Along Highway To High School

TUSTIN, May 27.—

Declaring that a dangerous condition exists between D street and the local high school for students who are forced to walk along the highway for several blocks, the chamber of commerce Monday night took steps to secure a sidewalk for the children. A path runs along the front of private property but it is impassable in wet weather. It is the plan to negotiate with property owners and the county board of supervisors in an effort to secure the sidewalk this summer.

The chamber of commerce will also take steps to have the railroad crossing at Main and Newport roads repaired and placed in excellent condition. Because of the opening of the summer season when many people will be out of town the regular monthly meetings of the chamber of commerce will be abandoned and special called meetings will be held.

The election of nine directors of the chamber of commerce to serve for the coming year was postponed until the next meeting.

MOTHER COLONY MADE TOPIC BY RIDER HAGGARD

ANAHEIM, May 27.—

It may not be generally known that Rider Haggard, the famous author who died recently, visited Southern California in 1905 as commissioner for the British government, to study rural colonization and intensive farming on small, irrigated tracts.

He spent several days at Anaheim, and wrote an interesting little brochure on the successful colony. Later he embodied his ideas in a book, "The Poor and the Land," but was never able to arouse Great Britain to the importance of putting the people upon the land.

MAYOR OF ORANGE REPORTED BETTER

ORANGE, May 27.—

Mayor G. W. Whittell, taken seriously ill while on the street last week, was reported somewhat improved yesterday, although he is as yet unable to be about.

It is expected that Mr. Whittell will journey to Strawberry Flats as soon as he recovers sufficiently, and spend a few weeks there regaining lost strength.

Hydroplanes To Race at Harbor If Permit Given

NEWPORT BEACH, May 27.—

Hydroplane races on Newport Bay as an added summer attraction may be permitted if an application before the Board of Trustees is favorably acted upon. Dick Loynes of Long Beach appeared before the board last night asking permission to stage the races over a triangular course in the bay. He said a number of swift hydroplanes would compete in the races. The application was taken under advisement.

SENIORITA USES BASS DRUM TO FREE HER LOVER FROM SOUTH AMERICAN PIRATES

MISSION SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, May 22.—

If you were a pretty Spanish seniorita and you loved a red-blooded Scotchman named John Rose who had been taken captive by a pirate crew, would you attempt to "vamp" the captain of the pirates with a big bass drum so that your lover and his two crippled companions might escape?

A modern-day flapper might think twice before she would even have anything to do with South American pirate crew, but alone try to vamp the leader, according to Garnet Holme, author of "The Mission Pageant of San Juan Capistrano," which is to be given 14 successive Sunday afternoons within the patio of the mission, beginning June 14.

But if she loved the man she would use her wiles to free him and if she had her wits about her she might do what Maritza, the Spanish dancer, does in the Mission Pageant, Holme added.

Holme, who is probably the best known director in Southern California, said he considered the episode in which Maritza vamped Captain Hypolito Bouchard, Argentine pirate, with the big brass drum as one of the most effective and spirited in the whole epic drama.

Such a scene actually took place at Mission San Juan Capistrano, located on El Camino Real below Santa Ana. When Holme found it recorded in the books he proceeded to inject it into this play.

To tell further what happens in this episode would be to detract from the enjoyment of those who have not yet seen the pageant, Holme went on to say. He was not adverse to declaring, however, that he considered the "vamping" part of Maritza as one of the choice bits of the play, which last year was hailed by the thousands who saw it as an historical drama more than an ordinary merit.

Job In East Is Offered Chief; Refuses Tender

ANAHEIM, May 27.—

Current rumors to the effect that Chief of Police Charles B. Nichols would leave Anaheim, because of the attacks made by a certain element upon his reputation and past work in other states, was downed here today with the receipt of a telegram by Nichols from a Massachusetts city in which he was requested to immediately wire his acceptance of a position of chief of police there at a salary of $5000 yearly.

John P. Quigley, prominent attorney of Olean, N. Y., and friend of Nichols, sent the wire, urging Nichols to accept the offer.

Nichols declared, however, that he had no intention of leaving Anaheim, and likes the city, the county and the Southland, and had no desire to make his home elsewhere.

Westminster

WESTMINSTER, May 27.—

ANAHEIM BUYS LAND ON WHICH TO GET WATER

ANAHEIM, May 27.—

Solution of Anaheim's water supply problems, a situation faced by practically every city in the county since the tremendous gain in population here during the past few years, was effected here by the purchase of approximately two acres of ground from the Anaheim Sugar company, on which are located two wells, 641 and 642 feet deep, assuring the city of an adequate supply of water for many years to come.

The purchase price for the land was $35,000, but through the negotiations, the city was deeded a strip of land 30 feet wide along Kemp street from La Palma street to the Crystal Chemical Company plant, approximating one acre. The donation of this land will allow the widening of Kemp street to 60 feet, thereby providing an excellent thoroughfare for heavy traffic through the industrial section.

In addition to the two wells on the two acres of ground, the purchase also includes two buildings, one a transformer house, 12 by 14 feet, built of eight inch brick walls, concrete floor and corrugated iron roof. The main building is 48 by 50 feet with 12 inch brick walls. On the acreage is also located a reservoir, 40 feet in diameter, which may be used for water storage or other purposes. In the main building are the two wells which are of sufficient capacity to care for the water supply of the city for many years, and which are completely equipped for pumping approximately 5,000,000 gallons of water daily, or nearly five times the quantity being used here at the present time.

The two wells were drilled in 1915 for the Anaheim Sugar Company, when it was producing a large output of beet sugar, in the refining of which, water was one of the principal necessities.

According to tests, the two wells puncture three coarse gravel water bearing strata.

Tustin Girls To Graduate In White Dresses

TUSTIN, May 27.—

Girls graduating from the Tustin grammar school this year will have to wear white wash dresses and white shoes and stockings, it was decided at a meeting of mothers and teachers held at the school recently.

Mothers of the girl graduates met recently with Mrs. Dora Glines to decide the matter. The dresses are to be made simply and the material is not to cost more than $5.

Carl Weise, senior orator for the Tustin high school, will represent Tustin high school in a three hour chemistry examination to be given at the University of Southern California next Saturday. It was announced today. Schools from over Southern California will be represented.

Mrs. A. D. Turner was hostess to the members of the Missionary society of the Presbyterian church recently. South America and Mexico were the subjects taken up at the meeting which was held at the church. Refreshments were served to about 18 women.

Members of the Aid society of the Presbyterian church held their regular all day meeting at the church Monday when Mrs. C. E. Pitt, Mrs. W. S. McDougal, and Mrs. Charles Whitney were hostesses. Luncheon was served to a large number in the Sunday school rooms. Sewing for the bazaar, which is to be held this fall, filled the day.

Following the inspection tour of schools the entire group adjourned to the beach where a plunge party and banquet were enjoyed. Those who enjoyed the trip were Superintendent C. A. Weise, Miss Lucy Royce, Mrs. Dora Glines, Miss Mary E. Durbin, Mrs. Eleanor Palmer, Miss Clara Enderle, Mrs. Ann Neal, Mr. and Mrs. George Gaylord, Mrs. Gladys Perotti, Mrs. Myrtle Shallenberger, Miss Fannie Hasty, Miss Lela Newton, Mrs. Edith Hurd, Mrs. Effie Slusser, and Mrs. Alice See.

TUSTIN TEACHERS VISIT LIBRARIES

TUSTIN, May 27.—

An inspection tour of school libraries with the aim in view to improve the local grammar school library, was the cause of a trip to Long Beach city schools by teachers from the elementary schools. Each school of more than ten teachers in Long Beach maintains a special library.

ACTIVITY AHEAD AT BEACHES

There is every reason to believe that this summer will be the greatest summer in the history of Orange county beaches. Of course, a good deal depends on the weather; a beach's prosperity always does. If the summer is remarkably cool in the interior, the beaches will not have the crowds they would have were the weather warm. It has been noticed at the beaches that the beach season starts with the opening up of warm weather and it goes through until schools start in September. No one can tell what the weather will be a month from now, but it is a ten to one chance that it will be beach weather.

Aside from the weather probabilities, however, there seems to be a renewed interest in Orange county beaches. There is activity all along our shoreline, from Seal Beach far below San Juan Capistrano. The completion of the state highway from Seal Beach to Newport Beach alone accounts for a large amount of traffic to and from the beaches. While the state highway from Newport Beach to Laguna Beach has not been paved, it has attracted a great deal of interest. Subdivision projects along the coast below Laguna Beach are opening up for summer business. Time was only a few years ago when Laguna Beach by the end of September retired to hibernate until the end of the next June. That is true no longer, for Laguna Beach is an all-year beach, and growing more so year by year.

When one contemplates the rapid growth in public favor and usage made by Orange county beaches during the past year—a growth made possible by automobiles and good roads—we find no difficulty in imagining that ten years more will bring the subdivision of every piece of ocean frontage from Seal Beach to San Onofre.

Which reminds us that no effort should be left unexercised for securing frontage for public use, no matter where that frontage may be located along the county's shore.

THIRTY OR FORTY ACRES

Referring to a communication from Samuel Armor of Orange, published in yesterday's Register, it should be pointed out that Mr. Armor has misconstrued the meaning of the filing of condemnation suits by Santa Ana against West Orange ranches aggregating 300 acres.

Mr. Armor assumes that it is Santa Ana's intention to condemn and buy the entire 300 acres. He says that $60,000 set apart for land will surely not cover that item.

According to statements by city officials, however, that is not the intention. The city proposes to buy not over forty acres as a site for its pumping plants. The reason for bringing action against 300 acres is that it has not yet been determined which piece of land will be selected by the engineer as the best located for Santa Ana's purposes. So the sum of $60,000 will cover the item of land.

Possibly another reason for proceeding against 300 acres is that there may be something of legal strategy with which we are not acquainted. We will admit that it is hardly fair for the city to place a larger number of ranchers upon the anxious seat than is necessary to carry out the city's program of water development. We have no doubt but a number of ranchers have gone to the expense of consulting attorneys by reason of the fact that a larger area is subjected to suit than will be carried through to a judgment and purchase. The city cannot settle upon the land it wants until the bonds are voted and money is available for drilling proper holes, and it seemed necessary to bring the actions as they were brought.

INCOME TAX CUTS

It is accepted that there is to be another big income tax cut next winter. It has been expected that most of the cutting would be done in the "higher brackets," to relieve suffering millionaires and start the flow of wealth back from tax-exempt securities. "Better collect a low tax on big fortunes than none at all," has been the argument. And there is a good deal in it. The "lower brackets" have been considered as having got about what was coming to them already.

But evidently they are due to get still more. The government's financial situation shows it is possible to cut more liberally than was anticipated. So why not benefit everybody, all up and down the line?

The latest proposal is the complete exemption from federal taxes of all incomes under $5,000, at the same time that all the surtaxes are reduced, the maximum being cut from 40 per cent to 2 per cent.

That this program would be popular without saving. The high exemption level would please the little fellows and the surtax cut would please the big fellows. Whether it would be sound policy is another question.

Thorough citizens may hold to the perfectly defensible view that it is bad to let so many million families with moderate but comfortable incomes escape all direct taxation for federal purposes—that it is better for all families above the poverty line to pay some income tax, however small, to strengthen their direct interest in the business of government.

A CHILDREN'S STATE

Governor Moore of Idaho, addressing a national welfare conference, wants to open the doors of his state to the lonely and destitute children of America.

"I would like to have Idaho," he says, "become a clearing house for homeless children of all the other states, especially the congested East. Nothing would please me more than to have not only children from institutions but from homes where the parents because of poverty are contemplating sending their children to institutions."

At the same time he pleads for stricter immigration laws. Idaho wants more people, but it wants native Americans—not aliens.

Suppose a suggestion like this could be carried out literally. Suppose all of the fatherless, motherless and poverty-stricken, uncared-for little boys and girls of the whole nation could be transported to Idaho and brought up by the generous people of that state. There would be a foster-mother such as the world never yet has seen. Homeless children used to be cast out to perish, by states and cities supposedly civilized. Idaho would mother all of them and call for more.

Surely it would be the finest philanthropy ever devised by man. And would Idaho have loyal sons and daughters when those kiddies grew up? Would she!

Fish and Game For the People Redlands Facts.

The people in western states are intensely interested in the fight being made in their behalf by Fish and Game Commissioner Ross of Portland, Oregon. Mr. Ross is taking the position that fish and game, including shell fish of all kinds, belong to all the people of the state primarily.

The ordinary citizen does not realize how the great salmon industry and other sources of sea food supply, such as the clam beds on the beaches, bays and rivers, and the king crab, crawfish and shrimp, are being destroyed by the ruthless march of commercial fisheries.

Dr. Ross has made himself a heroic figure in the Pacific Northwest in battling against wholesale destruction by fisheries, crabbers and clammeries where with power boats, dragnets and every destructive device, carloads of these products are produced and shipped all over our country, and to the big cities of the east, actually exterminating and destroying these great phases of sea life.

Hundreds of miles of our sea coast, mud flats in our bays and shores of our great rivers emptying into the Pacific ocean have been literally denuded of every vestige of these marine food supplies.

Shall all these delicious God-given supplies of ocean food, bred on the Pacific coast and its estuaries and great rivers, go the way of the buffalo, to be seen only in aquariums, written about in books and told about by the pioneers? It remains to be seen. Ways and means must be provided so that industry in co-operation with the estate will replenish our sea food supplies to offset the amount taken in commercial pursuits.

Recognizes Value of Research
San Francisco Chronicle.

By an unsolicited gift of a $155,000 electrical laboratory to Stanford University, with the probability that further gifts will bring the total closer to $500,000, the General Electric Company and the Pacific Gas and Electric company have given practical recognition to the value of university research work to industry.

There is a more or less popular notion that scientific investigators are merely seeking to gratify academic curiosity, but this idea gets a setback from the gift and naming of the laboratory for Dr. Harris J. Ryan, incidentally revealed as the leader in the work of high voltage transmission.

When Dr. Ryan first attacked the problem of high voltage transmission, the limit of transmission was 40,000 volts, and so the greater part of the power now in use was beyond reach. As a result of his findings, transmission has been developed to the 220,000 volts now used by the power companies. A still greater store of power is waiting for improved transmission methods, and these Dr. Ryan is working on with his students and other engineers.

The gift by the electric companies expresses their appreciation to Dr. Ryan and the university, and also gives greater impetus for going further into the problems of transmission, which will benefit all the power companies in America.

The gift is peculiarly acceptable to Stanford, which, by reason of a reputation for wealth, has been shut off from greatly needed support of the kind that has been given to other institutions. The example may set the pace for other industries, much to their benefit and to that of Stanford.

Fortunes For Ideas
Bakersfield Californian.

Somewhere in Kern county there is the germ of an idea that will make a fortune for the man or woman who discovers it. That idea may be so simple and obvious that hundreds daily walk blindly past it without suspecting their ill fortune. Perhaps it is the perfection of a motor that will run 50 miles on a gallon of gasoline. Many experiments have already been made along that line. It is said that the goal is not yet in sight. Many have been discouraged with the thought that it can't be done. But men who invented the greatest machines, the most delicate instruments, the most wonderful of all modern developments, the radio, were never discouraged when others told them it could not be done. The world laughed at the first steamboat, steam locomotive, the automobile and the airplane.

We have quit saying that things are "impossible." We are doing whatever we set our minds to do. And it is reasonable to suppose that someone, perhaps a man or woman in Bakersfield, will yet find the way to make a motor run 50, 60 or even 75 miles on a single gallon of gasoline. And fortune will come in the wake of a real idea.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

HOME HEALTH AND ECONOMICS

Illinois, through its Home Economic association, has returned answers to an interesting questionnaire. In it women were to put down each schedule of work for each day of the week.

The answers showed there is greater share of work and play in the farm home than in the large town or city. Hundreds of replies showed the greatest pleasure women received was in doing something for someone else, forgetting self and self-pity, avoiding nervous tension and enjoying the great health restorer—restful sleep.

About one-half of the women had power-driven washing machines. Thirty-seven per cent had no washers, except the women. The washing machine is estimated to have eliminated a large number of dreary days from exercise at the back-bending tubs. No exact per cent of physical gain could be given as the result of this questionnaire, but indirectly the gain is marked and the increase in life's span measures well up to the national average of between 10 and 11 years.

The bathing facilities also show a decided increase. More country and farm people have bath-rooms than city dwellers ever imagined.

The direct gain in personal health by regular bathing is a great step in the elimination of sickness and contagion. Absolute change in sleeping garments from those worn during the day was another sign of great gains in health.

One feature which other sections of our country should try to improve decidedly was length of time in eating. The average was very low, only 10 to 15 minutes.

Plan your daily health program so that 20 or 25 minutes at least is spent at table. Your digestive troubles and headaches will show a decided gain by such a program. Your children will be better specimens of happy health.

Autoist and Camper Can Reduce Fire Hazards

San Francisco Chronicle

California's present dampness will soon be over and then, probably, the dry season will be upon us for good until next winter. That should be, throughout the state, the closed season for tossing away lighted matches and burning cigar and cigarette butts.

Our prolonged dry season makes the whole state a particular danger for fire. The forests represent only a small part of the market. Every grain field, every bit of hillside pasture land is in imminent peril throughout the summer. The least carelessness anywhere in the country may start a conflagration to sweep away pasturage, hay and grain crops, houses and barns, to say nothing of standing timber and valuable watershed cover.

The city-bred person has little conception of the extreme ease with which a disastrous fire may be started almost anywhere in the county in summer-time California. The farmer knows and is meticulously careful. No precaution is too great for the camper and motorist to take.

Be sure the match is out. Be sure there is no fire left in the cigarette or cigar or pipe tobacco. Even after you are sure they are dead throw them only on bare ground and then stamp on them. Build no unnecessary campfires and always clear the ground first. Never leave a campfire unattended. Before leaving, drown the campfire with water or bury it with sand or earth.

Only by such care will you avoid starting fires that may take not only property but life.

MEMORY

Out of an autumn hour that cools and glasses
Into the cask of autumn goes before.
I shall remember tall and silken grasses
Slurring their yellows down a misty shore.
There, will be water cold and green and crawling,
Sand like the dead-white upturned breast of a loon;
And over, dusk in a long gold feather falling.
And brown sails blowing secrets at the moon.
There, will be sound of leaves like thin coins tinkled
Into the careless coffers of the night.
And where the moving waves are caught and crinkled
I shall remember last, in the lemon light,
Three wild ducks flying windward, dark and frail,
Like three charmed princes in a fairy tale.

There's a new kind of candy around at Mommy Simmings, being bags of jelly beans for 2 cents with a prize in every bag, and yesterday afternoon I went around with Puds Simkins and we each bought one, and my prize was a gold looking ring with a diamond in it and Puds' prize was one just like it, me thinking, 'G, I'll give this to Mary Watkins and maybe she'll think it's an engagement ring and then we'll be engaged.'

The Patchwork Quilt

By ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT.
(Have you any patches to add to it?)

It opened with a bird-song, a trilling, lovely thing
That bore within its raptures, all the elements of spring;
It flowered with the sunrise whose opalescent glow
Ripped across the heartstrings like music, soft and low.
The fleecy clouds of morning were lace-like in the sky,
Like bits of frozen sea-spume the wind had wafted high.
And oh, the golden noontide whose sunlight fell so warm
It patterned all the roses in lovely shadow form!
The green and leafy tree-tops were motionless and still
And silver were the sycamores upon the distant hills.
The softly purple shadows, so cool and soft a boon,
Foretold the slow advancement of a golden afternoon.
An afternoon whose beauty grew slowly into night
And cast a purple shadow across the sunshine bright.
The crescent moon was graceful there in her heavens far
And oh, the poignant beauty of a hill-top and a star!
But finally the fog came and wrapped it safe away
To treasure as a memory, — a California day!

CHRONICLES OF THE LITTLE GRAY HOUSE.

She was such a demure young lady, that we encountered on the way which leads from the Little Gray House to the office. There was a charming friendliness about her with no trace of affectation or that self-consciousness which sometimes mars otherwise lovely childhood.

Her blue eyes sparkled from beneath the brim of a dainty little frilled argand hat, and so charming a frame was it for her baby beauty that I remarked upon her hat—not wishing to arouse the possible ire of a careful mother by remarking upon the pretty face beneath the hat.

And what a short talk back to childhood days I followed when the complacent I brought forth a flood of explanation! How children do understand and sympathize with trials of their elders!

"My mother sent my hat to the cleaners, for it was dreadfully soiled." (Can't you hear a mother's careful use of the word soiled instead of dirty?) "And do you know what she said? 'Honey, you would never know it had been cleaned at all! So mother had to rip it all apart and do it herself. And she just washed it, and then put it all together again, and it looks like new, doesn't it?'"

Bless her heart, it did, and she was a duck, I hated to surrender the frilly little hand thrust so confidently in mine, but I had reached the office and had to settle down to an afternoon's work—considerably brightened by a small blonde maid in a white or-gandy hat.

"Bless you, my children, 'you are responding splendidly to the call, and it is a great deal of pleasure that we offer an assortment of gay Quilt blocks today, pierced by nimble-witted contributors in response to the party suggestion. Remember the party will be an event of early summer and there are still several old-timers to hear from. And always, ALWAYS there is a warm welcome awaiting new friends."

Did you write a little "pome?"
Pass it on.
Send it out to seek a home—
Pass it on.
Even though you are averse
And refuse to accept terms,
Don't forget there might be worse—
Pass it on.

(We wonder—is this a promise?)
THAT PARTY.
(Nemo speaks to her (imaginary) colored maid, whose full name is Sally Lou Johnsons.)
Get out my glad rags, Sally, for they will have to do—
The writing game's so insecure, we cannot think of new.
But I'm glad I have the habit for otherwise, I'd not see
The in-most side of The Little Gray House, or be at the Quilting Bee.

So I should be sorry, Sally,—guests will be scribbling folk.
Togged in glad rags of yesterday—to them it'll be no joke.
No, you cannot go with me, Sally, for this is a white folks' fete.

And you needn't wait up for my return, 'twill be probably somewhat late.
But Rastus may come for a visit, to keep you from feeling blue.
(And I'll try to sneak out a bon-bon, or a chocolate drop, for you.)

Remember the parties, Sally, we used to have back East?
Remember the "kisses" you used to make to add to the fun of the feast?

Do you think you could make some, Sally, to take to the Quilting Bee?

I'd be so happy to hand them round as a treat, from you and me!

For none of them know you, Sally,—how clever you really are.
But that was the reason, my Dusky Dear, I brought you with me, so far.

So hurry and get my glad rags, and we'll see what we can do,
To furnish them up and give them style, and make them appear like new.

For I'm going to a party, Sally, that Patchwork Quilting Bee,
And I'm going to meet the scribbling tribe, of the Patch-

WELCOME HOME!

Dear Patchwork Lady:—

Like the small boy who always attends Sunday school faithfully just before Christmas for the material results, so I must also needs patch a little on account of that promised quilting party, for I certainly have a curiosity to greet Nemo, Falstaff, Little Sister, I. M. A. Patcher; and to find out whether each of them is a "He" or a "She"; also whether the Colonel is the Kentucky sort, or one associated with arms; and if so, is he clever with his arms?

Anyway it will be most romantic to sit under the Shaggy Plum Tree and have these Plums of Knowledge so generously dropped down to us.

I've been so hopelessly remiss. Both with needle and with pen; Forgive me now,—and after this I'll send you something now and then.

I know a promise isn't much When lightly made and spoken; But often makes us "get in Dutch!"

When heedlessly it's broken.
—SUSIE SLADE.

I. M. A. PATCHER shares SUSIE SLADE'S cynicism in re children and promised goodies, but nevertheless sends two charming bits of childhood verse, of which we promise one in the near future and today give you the whimsical conceit.

THE RIVER
The river is a happy child
Altho he's often almost wild;
He sometimes bumps from rocky walls—
And then, of course, he ALWAYS falls.

The river never stops to play
But keeps on running all the day
In haste to see the waves and foam
Of his great-big-blue ocean home.

He longs to see white ships with sails;
To play at hide-and-seek with whales;
To fill his hands with tiny sands
And build them into fertile lands.

The little river sings a song
Because he knows 'twill not be long 'Till in his mother's arms he'll lie—
And hear her gentle lullaby.

—I. M. A. PATCHER.

EVEN A LIMERICK!
A magician who quilted a quilt (Out of patches of fancy 'twas built)

Took my mis'able patch
Which nothing could match
To a party so patchers would kill!
—PAT...SH.

Colonel, we greet you!
Dear Patchwork Lady:—

I've been gone a long time but I've been thinking, and I've come to the conclusion life IS funny for you see some people that are praised and pointed out to you, and then you study them and find out they don't work as hard as you do and yet they get by and you don't and that's what makes life funny and it seems sometimes you do your poorest when you do your durndest, or at least you are credited with doing your poorest at that time, and so, and maybe that's the reason somebody wrote "there's a silver lining" when really there aint no silver lining for those who do their durndest, and its for those that get by without doing their durndest, maybe?
—THE COLONEL.

The Hawthorn

Hawthorn is the flower for May and is often called "May" from the season of its flowering. It is a shrub or small tree and is a native of Siberia, Europe, Northern Africa and has been introduced into the United States. The flowers are followed by a small red fruit with yellow pulp, which remains on the tree after the leaves have fallen and affords winter fruit for the birds.

In England is found the Glastonbury thorn which is supposed to have originated at Glastonbury Abbey. The Glastonbury thorn often blooms in winter, and it is not unusual for a second flowering to take place the same year.

In 1850 every first class hotel in New York advertised that it had one bath tub—not for every room, but for the entire hotel.

The common Hawthorn, or "may," as it is called, is known as the white thorn to distinguish it from the sloe or black thorn. It has many uses. A fermented liquor is made from the fruit and sold in certain parts of France. It is used also as a stock on which to graft apples and other promise fruit.

Great Britain uses the Hawthorn as a hedge because of its quick growth while young, its long life and its adaptability to a variety of soils.
